If motorists do not pay any more attention to school children who are passing through pedestrian lanes, than they do to adults in downtown intersections, the splendid record of Chief Howard's campaign to protect lives will be marred by fatalities. The motorist who violates pedestrian signs comes not only within the condemnation of the state highway law but also the condemnation of public opinion. School begins next Monday and your careful driving should begin at the same time. What's the hurry. When you leave here you will be away a long time. Better take more of it here, and give the other fellow a chance to continue his earthly residence. Adult life is precious. You can't place a valuation on child life because it has its life to live. Give it a chance.

Now, about this rat campaign. If we don't kill the rats the rats will kill the cats, and if the rats kill the cats who will kill the rats? I'm busy. But I am in favor of some one killing the rats before they take possession of my commissary. It's tough enough for me to feed the family, a canary and one old cat who is getting to old to defend himself.

And a rancher came in to tell me that he didn't like the sound of the whistles. That they tend the approach of a desert wind. For the love of Mike. Why anticipate! If they arrive it's anticipated.

Old man Damocles has been away so long that the boys in the lino-type room have added another letter to his name, according to their orthography as appearing in this column Thursday evening. I tried to prevent it. So "Damy," old boy, you better come back and protect yourself. I'm not particularly fond of your Dionysian experience, so leave old "Dionish" where he is, if he is where I think he is.

And speaking of rats. Good friend reports an interesting incident Friday a. m., 9 o'clock. Fourth and Main. Caste: Policeman and a jay-walking rodent. Rat must have had its dates mixed and thought it was Saturday, as it came from the direction of the bank. What made the "cop" hot was the rat violated the traffic rules and made a diagonal crossing, with the officer in pursuit. It paid no more attention to signals than some pedestrians. As a hit and run operator it was a great success. It outran the policeman, and hit the sewer. I am informed that the "cop" failed to get the license number, so what are we going to do about this rat question, anyway?

Several weeks ago my fisherman friends with drooping eyelids and stooped shoulders came back with disappointing reports. Late in the picture was turned and I'm getting more glowing accounts of fishermen luck than I can believe. Motorcycle Officer Lloyd Groover is inclined toward an Izaak Walton excursion, and I was hoping he would have a successful trip until he asked me to go along. Now I'm indifferent as to the result, with the balance on the failure side. He knew all the time that fishing is not one of my inclinations.

My good friend, Ed. Summers is in St. Joseph's hospital, where he retreated for a major surgical operation. For a time the outcome was in doubt. Recent information is more hopeful. He is now heading back to a firmer foundation. I can't offer anything more than my best wishes, and I do not know that Ed. needs 'em, but I know he wouldn't refuse 'em. He has always fought his own way, and so far hasn't called upon me for any help. But that doesn't lessen my concern for his recovery.

In our paper appears periodically an ad. suggesting the time in and chat awhile with Betty, with the further information that Betty is on the air every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 11:30-11:45 a. m., over The Journal KVOE station. I can do better than that, with Betty. I get to talk to her every day instead of every other day, and I have no complaint to make about the frequency. So I would suggest that you take advantage of the every other day opportunity and listen to Betty's "Chat." It's local color. You'll like it. Betty

Japanese Halted in Big Drive

BITTER FIGHT STOPS ARMY AT SHANGHAI

Terrible Toll Taken
In Important Battle

SHANGHAI, (AP)—A smashing drive inland from the Yangtze today brought Japanese and Chinese hand to hand, locked in one of the most important battles of the Sino-Japanese undeclared war.

Japanese legions swept up from the river to push China's troops back to Yangchong, four miles inland from the strategic Woosung forts where the Yangtze and the Whangpoo rivers join.

For 24 hours the Japanese steadily hammered the Chinese back until Japan possessed one-third of Yangchong, but later they were forced to give up the section under terrific Chinese attack.

JAPANESE RETREAT
An aerial and artillery bombardment projected the Japanese movement slowly and inexorably forward. When the attackers reached the city, however, they were forced to retire after hand-to-hand fighting in which the Chinese seemed to have superiority.

At the end of 24 hours of relentless fighting the Japanese claimed an advance of two miles from previous positions.

Describing the drive as a major Japanese offensive, a Chinese military spokesman explained the attack was designed to converge on Yangchong from Woosung, Lotien and Liuhu in order to drive a wedge into the heart of Chinese defenses running from Liuhu to Shanghai.

In the advance of two miles the Japanese had the tremendous (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

BOOST CRAEMER FOR NEW JOB

Justus F. Craemer of Orange, assistant director of the state department of public works, may become the next state building and loan commissioner.

Craemer's name has been prominently mentioned as successor to Louis C. Drapeau, incumbent, should Governor Merriam name Drapeau superior court judge of Ventura county.

So far Drapeau is the only candidate for the post which Judge Edward Henderson has given up in Ventura to enter private law practice. It is felt that Drapeau could have the judgeship for the asking. He has made his application to the governor.

Drapeau's appointment, it was understood, is being delayed by the governor only while he is considering whom to appoint to replace him.

LEGION SPURS PURE FOOD DRIVE HERE

Medical Tests Urged
For All Handlers

A campaign to require all waiters and other persons handling food to undergo periodical medical examinations had been launched today by Orange county Legionnaires.

The county-wide campaign to guard more closely against social diseases in public eating places, was endorsed by the county Legion council in a meeting at Anaheim Landing last night. The motion followed a resolution adopted two weeks ago by the Laguna Beach American Legion post to "feel out public sentiment" on the proposal.

With the idea already sanctioned by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, the motion calling for mandatory physical examinations in all unincorporated areas will be presented at next week's meeting of the supervisors, it was learned.

LOCAL CAMPAIGNS
All waiters, waitresses, cooks and others handling food would come under the program, and thorough examinations for tuberculosis, syphilis and other social diseases would be made at specified intervals.

Each Legion post in the county will take separate action on the resolution, representatives decided last night, and campaigns probably will be launched in each city to secure adoption of ordinances.

The Laguna Beach post introduced its motion as a request for a pure food handling law, before the city council in that city.

Action on the ordinance there was deferred until an expression of opinion had been received from other parts of the county.

DISCUSSION HERE
The Santa Ana post, according to Arthur Eklund, commander-elect, will discuss the proposal early next month.

Eklund described the resolution as the county's first tangible step in the Legion's nationwide program to stamp out the spread of venereal disease.

Pure food handling laws, he said, were tentatively endorsed by the state Legion department convention in Stockton last month.

Representative restaurant owners in Santa Ana today heartily endorsed the move.

CAFE MEN APPROVE
"I think we're in favor of better sanitary requirements," declared the proprietor of a local cafe. "Many states—Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Colorado and others—require regular weekly examinations of all help. It's a good move."

An ordinance requiring examinations, most cafe proprietors agreed, would give them a better opportunity to make certain of their employees' physical fitness.

An investigation now is being made into feasibility of the move.

Roosevelt's Love?

Though Miss Anne Lindsay Clark (above), Boston debutante, was waiting at Hyde Park to welcome him home from Europe, John Roosevelt, son of the President, was evasive when asked if he had fallen in love. "It's something novel as far as I'm concerned," he said.

TOKYO HIT BY TYPHOON

Tidal Wave Kills 60;
War Crops Damaged

TOKYO, (AP)—A raging typhoon, a tidal wave and floods spread destruction today through wide sections of war-excited Japan, leaving 60 dead, 100 injured and extensive property damage. In some sections the storm swept away crops which had been counted on to feed Japan's soldiers in China.

The storm and tidal wave struck ferociously along the southern coast of Japan's main islands.

Pleads for Blood To Save Woman

An appeal for blood donors to save the ebbing life of a Mexican woman in Orange county hospital was made today by Lucas Lucio, Mexican honorary commissioner here.

Lucio said Mrs. Concepcion Martinez, mother of three fatherless children, is in immediate need of a blood transfusion.

Doctors are trying to save her life, but most of her friends have donated blood and now it is impossible to find more blood donors, Lucio said.

HALT BRUSH FIRE

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Five hundred weary firefighters early today brought under complete control a brush fire which burned over more than 900 acres in Las Tunas canyon, between Sunland and Roscoe.

Discouraged over inability to find work so that he might complete a course in air conditioning, Braucher had been awarded scholarships in chemistry and mechanical engineering at the University of Chicago and the Chicago Technical college.

A note in the victim's handwriting deplored his failure to earn a university degree 10 years after graduation from high school. A postscript said, "This is no sudden impulse."

ASKS RIGHTS FOR SPANISH INSURGENTS

Britain, France Given
9-Power Naval Mandate

ROME, (AP)—Italian sources said today that Italy will not accept the Franco-British plan for an "anti-piracy" patrol of the Mediterranean unless participating powers grant belligerent rights to the Spanish insurgent cause.

The sources said Italy could accept the patrol plan "in principle" but would require "some fundamental conditions" such as recognition of Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco as a belligerent.

It was suggested the whole "piracy" problem could be discussed to advantage at a meeting of only four powers—France, Britain, Germany and Italy. Conclusions of such a meeting, it was said, could be submitted to the Spanish war non-intervention committee.

FRANCE, BRITAIN TO CARRY OUT ATTACK

GENEVA, (AP)—The nine-power conference on piracy tonight placed upon Britain and France the prime responsibility for riding Mediterranean sea lanes of attacking submarines, latest threat to world peace to spring from the Spanish civil war.

The agreement, reached in the sleepy, country town of Nyon after a little more than 24 hours, was without the adherence of Germany and Italy—both of whom stayed away because of Russian charges that Italy was responsible for the piracy attacks that have menaced shipping the past several months.

ASK ITALY'S HELP

Italy will be invited to share in the patrol, but her participation will not be regarded as an essential part of the plan. Germany will not be asked for aid, under the agreement.

Open AFL Drive In Frisco Area

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Union teamsters today announced the start of an organization drive among bay district warehousemen, object of an AFL-CIO jurisdictional dispute which has crippled the waterfront here and threatened to spread to all Pacific ports.

Jack Carter, a spokesman for Oakland teamsters, said his forces had signed up 200 warehousemen in the East Bay on the strength of a charter "recently received from American Federation of Labor headquarters in the East."

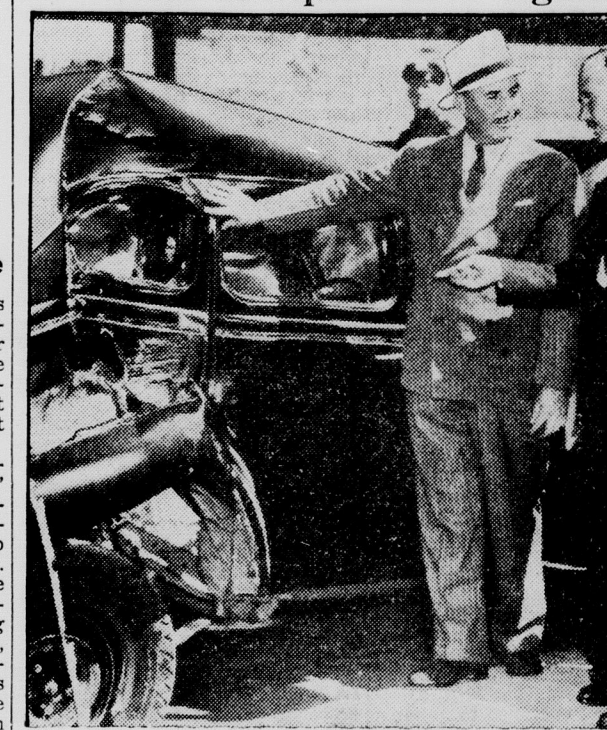

Braucher had been awarded a home-made electric chair to end his life. His body was found in his room last night with a strand of copper wire attached to a wrist and another wrapped around the right ankle. A transformer which boosted the current to a high voltage made the device a lethal weapon.

Dr. J. S. Taylor, who pronounced Braucher dead from electrocution, said probably 2000 volts had coursed through his body for more than an hour.

Tied to an electric plug was a card reading: "Pull out this plug before touching me." Another card attached to the transformer warned: "Danger, high voltage."

Ralph W. Braucher, research engineer for the state planning commission and father of the victim, said the latter had become

'Park Okeh If Not Too Costly'

—Mayor Rowland

Mayor Fred C. Rowland is park-minded. He said so today as The Journal continued its canvass of the city council members to determine the individual attitude of the council in regard to a park development program for Santa Ana. But—Mayor Rowland is park-minded if and when he thinks the city can afford a sizeable park. He says a park is more or less a luxury, and a great deal of money should not be spent on one until the city can afford it.

YORBA PUPILS STAGE REVOLT

114 Refuse to Attend Designated Schools

Eighty per cent of all pupils in the Yorba-Richfield school district will attend classes in Placentia elementary and high schools this year despite action of the board of supervisors last December in divorcing the two subdivisions from the Placentia area, it was learned today.

Petitions from parents representing 114 pupils from the two districts requesting that they be allowed to attend classes in Placentia were received by the Placentia board this morning and a resolution authorized the students to come to the parent school if they so desired. Transportation will be furnished by the school.

Knabb and the youthful Purves have been engaged in a personal and political feud over law enforcement policies.

Knabb challenged Purves to a four-round boxing match as part of next Tuesday night's professional fight card. Purves has not replied formally to the challenge.

SILVER SHIRT AIDE SEEKS FOR RECRUITS

Discover 'Bund' Unit In Orange County

The advance guard of the Nazis is here! But they aren't goose-stepping, or furiously waving the Hitler Swastika. The "storm troops" have invaded Orange county unobtrusively enough, but they hope to drive an entering wedge that may eventually make them a potent factor in the county's political life. The Journal learned authoritatively today.

An "indeterminate" number of north-county German Americans—somewhere between 20 and 200—are affiliated with the Los Angeles unit of Amerikadeutscher Volksbund. That's the same German American "Bund" accused in Chicago this week of planning "to seize control of the United States, but not until the Communists' revolution starts."

PROBE STARTED
Orange county members have no intention of seizing the United States, spokesmen told The Journal. Their war is against Communism.

The Journal's inquiry followed recent publication of a survey by the Chicago Times reporting widespread Nazi activities in this county. Immediately after the Times survey was published, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho proposed a congressional inquiry into the organization's reported militant tactics. The federal justice department already is investigating, it was revealed yesterday.

OPERATES QUIETLY
Orange county's Nazi activities are not widespread—or militant. As far as this district is concerned, the Bund appears to be a tight little circle. The Journal contacted more than 20 German-American leaders in the northern part of the county before it found one who had even heard of Amerikadeutscher Volksbund.

When the leaders of this "tight little band" finally were discovered, they claimed upwards of 1000 German Americans in Orange county were favorable to their organization and probably would eventually affiliate. They admitted, however, that the actual membership was well under 100.

EXCLUSIVE
The subject of Communism is almost an official phobia with the Bund, which was described as a sort of Klan. Ostensibly, at least, the organization is no more secret than an ordinary lodge. Its membership requirements, however, are fairly exclusive.

Two Women Hurt In Collision

Two Santa Ana women were slightly injured when cars driven by Mable Cecilia Freco, 49, Santa Ana, and Gilbert Lee Voyles, 26, Orange, collided on Seventh street one-fourth mile west of Harbor boulevard yesterday.

The injured—Madge Ashley, 54, and Mrs. Mary Skegg, 80—were given first aid treatment for minor bruises.

Robert Zedaker, 6-year-old son of Orville Stewart Zedaker, 106 Homewood avenue, Buena Park, was bruised when his father's car, and one driven by Harold Heatley, 19, of Buena Park, collided at Grand avenue and Commonwealth street last night.

Fiend Murders Youngster, 10

GILFORD, N. H. (AP)—The skull-crushed body of 10-year-old Neville Jensen, of Laconia, was found today by a rain-soaked road, six miles from his home. Medical Referee L. I. Brown said the boy had been murdered.

The child had been missing since last night when his mother, Mrs. Harry Jensen, sent him to mail a letter.

Another boy, Dickie Brooks, 6, told police he had seen Neville talking to a man last evening in Laconia.

M'FARLAND HEADS UNION OF PASTORS

Rev. Edgar Named as Vice-President

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is the new president of the Santa Ana Ministerial association today. He was elected when members met yesterday afternoon in the United Presbyterian church for their annual business session.

At the election conducted by Dr. Albert Eakin Kelly, retiring president, the Rev. Samuel Edgar, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, was chosen vice-president; the Rev. Herman Landis, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, secretary-treasurer; and Herbert Thomas of the Y. M. C. A., assistant secretary.

Preliminary plans for a great Armistice day peace meeting to be held Nov. 10 were discussed, with arrangements in charge of the so-called peace committee of the association.

Miss Marjory McCulloch, new secretary of the local Y. W. C. A., and the Rev. Henry Irving Rasmus, Jr., new pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, were introduced.

Chet McDonald leaves me a copy of the Pacific Telephone Magazine, the "family" publication of the organization. There is more wire, both underground and overhead, in it than I could handle in a million years. Enough to vex an astute politician. But all these wires carry information, yours and mine, answer our calls and put through our messages. Other news about "family" happenings are printed. There is everything in its except the time that my monthly statement arrives, and I know the approximate date. So why bother about that?

And then there was the fellow whose attention was called to the meeting of a service club, and he said, yes, I'll be there, but he did not say when. So he forgot all about it and went to the cafe to get his lunch. It was a good lunch, but it wasn't served where he expected it to be. How fleeting are our promises.

Lost 4 Days, Babe Is Found

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Fifteen but strength-restoring sleep bolstered the belief of physicians today that a 4-year-old, red-haired Florence Jackson would recover from the ordeal of four days of wandering in wild Ozark woodland.

Haggard and naked, the blue-eyed baby stumbled yesterday to a Missouri farmhouse, seven miles from the spot where she disappeared Monday. Seven hundred persons had participated in the widespread search.

Hurried to a hospital after the reunion with her hysterically happy parents, the tot asked simply for a drink of water. She drank that and some warm milk, then fell into restless slumber.

Horace A. Thomson, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomson, Hutchinson, Kan., marine now on duty in Shanghai, gave a blood transfusion to Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, who was shot and seriously wounded when a Japanese airplane splattered his automobile with bullets.

advantage of protective barages from their warships, airplanes and heavy artillery.

In Yangchow itself, Chinese defenders fought Japanese to a standstill with knives, swords and bayonets, finally driving the invaders to the village outskirts.

Once the push was halted, Chinese summoned heavy reinforcements in an effort to regain their lost positions.

Casualties in the battle were the heaviest of any since Shanghai hostilities broke out.

JAPANESE TAKE CHINESE VILLAGE

PEIPEI, (AP)—Japanese military authorities today announced the fall of Machang, 30 miles south of Tientsin, as the advancing Japanese war machine thrust into new important territory.

The fall of the city ended a 24-hour battle, one of the fiercest of the two-month-old conflict, in which two Chinese divisions and the remnants of the 29th army put up bitter resistance to Japan's march southward.

Fighting at times in water waist-deep, the Chinese defenders held out in the fortified city for many hours against a terrific battering from the Japanese forces.

JAPAN TO 'EXPLAIN' UNDECLARED WAR

TOKYO, (AP)—Japan today planned to dispatch special envoys to three great powers—the United States, France and Great Britain—to explain her version of the Far Eastern war Japan believes will continue at least into 1938.

Their mission presumably would be to lay before the United States and other powers Japan's position in the Sino-Japanese conflict with an explanation of its causes and an outline of events in the undeclared war now devastating large sections of North China.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The national labor relations board, moving swiftly to avert a threatened maritime strike at Atlantic and Gulf ports, refused today to delay until October collective bargaining elections among employees of 56 steamship lines.

Postponement of elections was asked by the International Seamen's Union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, pending reorganization of the union.

It was opposed by the national maritime union, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate which said 40,000 would strike if the postponement were granted.

PLAN DRIVE ON PIRATE SUBMARINES

among the conferees after the conference broke up tonight.

"We have reached an accord as to how we are going to fight piracy in the Mediterranean," Litvinoff said. "Our conclusions will be referred to our respective governments and we will meet again in a few days."

If Italy declines to take part in the impending anti-piracy protocol, British and French warcraft would be dispatched to the Tyrrhenian, it is planned.

This grim force of naval police would be empowered to sink any piracy-borne submarine that pokes its periscope above water. Italy's entire western coast fronts on the Tyrrhenian.

It was explained, however, that France and Britain, sponsors of the Nyon gathering, still hoped strongly that Il Duce would join the international police force.

The Italo-German counter-proposal that the problem of submarine piracy be laid before the old Spanish non-intervention committee in London has been rebuffed by France and Britain.

Curtly, they announced that such a scheme was impracticable. Italy and Germany still stood by their counter-suggestion, entered when they refused the invitation to Nyon, holding out a promise of collaboration through the London group.

The crux of the touchy situation will be reached after the protocol plan is completed and Italy—possibly with Germany—is invited to take part.

Meanwhile, a new stumbling block for the Nyon talks appeared in a double-edged criticism by Soviet Russia that the contemplated patrol system would be:

(1) Equivalent to granting of belligerent status under international law to the Spanish insurgent government.

(2) Too loosely constructed to wipe out the attacks on Mediterranean shipping.

BRITISH SHIP BOMBED

LONDON, (AP)—Owners of the British steamer Stanbridge reported today the ship was "heavily bombed" yesterday while evacuating 1000 refugees from the north Spanish port of Gijon.

The ship was proceeding toward La Pallice, France, with a destroyer escort. First reports said the ship was in bad condition, but later the captain said "all's well."

more active Bund members in the Orange district. "We know the danger of Communism and its organizers and are prepared at any time to fight and defend the constitution of the United States against this menace."

Bund members apparently are pretty thoroughly sold on the doctrine that America sooner or later will line up in a revolution between Communistic and Fascistic elements. There's not much doubt which side they take.

SILVER SHIRTS

There is no official tieup between the Bund and the Silver Shirts, an American Fascistic organization. Unofficially, however, The Journal learned, the two work hand in hand. Many Bund members also have joined the Silver Shirts, and speakers from the latter organization have made frequent appearances at Bund gatherings in Hindenburg park at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Feldner's husband, Henry Feldner, another active Orange district promoter of the organization, reportedly has been attempting to organize Orange county Bund and Silver Shirts units, but far has been balked in his attempts to secure free meeting places.

JEWISH LEADER SAYS NAZI REPORT TRUE

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Harry H. Schaffer, commander in chief of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, declared today he believed the recent Chicago Daily Times' story that an army of Nazis is being drilled and trained in the United States.

In a statement, Schaffer said: "I am not at all surprised at the disclosure that an army of at least 20,000 Nazis are drilling and training and preparing to seize control of the United States. The Jewish War Veterans' staff has known for some time of the subversive activities of the German-American Bund."

Tidal wave waters raised the flood to a height of 25 feet in some sections. At least 100 houses were submerged. Fishing boats raced aground. Electric power lines were inundated. In Kobe 500 homes were under water.

RICE CROP DAMAGED
Takamatsu reported 15 killed, 200 fishing vessels sunk and 1000 houses flooded. Farmers in Kawaga prefecture reported their rice crop badly damaged.

At Nagasaki the steamship Nagasaki Maru caught a wireless S O S which officers said they believed came from an American ship aground on the Futaba Island coast. While coastguards raced toward the scene the ship reported she was afloat once more.

Tokushima police reported one dead, 18 injured, 89 houses wrecked and 100 houses submerged. A new theater was destroyed.

The catastrophe struck at shipping in the inland sea. The 7000-ton freighter Lima Maru was grounded near Matsuyama.

Asks Aid for Son

Mrs. Ida Dahl (above), of Champaign, Ill., dispatched a telegram to Secretary of State Hull urging him to make "every effort" to win the release of her son, Harold, 28, who, as a pilot for the Spanish Loyalists, was shot down on the Madrid front July 12, captured and condemned to die by Spanish insurgents.

Tropic Hurricane Perils Shipping

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A tropical hurricane carrying "dangerous conditions" for shipping whirled through the Atlantic Ocean today, its northeasterly course carrying it away from land.

The weather bureau said the storm was relatively small but was accompanied by shifting gales and hurricane winds (75 miles or more) near the center.

Open water lies in the storm's present path, which is well to the east of Bermuda.

litical trickery." They joined the Yorba Linda elementary district and Fullerton Union High school district, and extensive preparations were made in Yorba Linda to take care of the influx of students.

New teachers were hired, a bus purchased and plans were made to open classes in the long unused Yorba school building.

Division of the Placentia district was made by the board of supervisors over the strong protest of County Superintendent Ray Adkinson. Now, if the Placentia and Yorba Linda districts cannot agree on a price to be paid for tuition and transportation of the youngsters, Adkinson, according to school law, may set a rate, it was reported.

10-YEAR BATTLE
Superintendent A. P. Patten at Placentia today was preparing to hire three new elementary teachers to take care of the unexpected rise in enrollment figures.

Action of the parents is the latest move in a 10-year battle over withdrawal of the Placentia district from Fullerton Union High school district. Placentia broke relations with the parent district four years ago and constructed Valencia High school. Since that

'Puppy Love' Murderer Gets Life Sentence

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Holly Sager, 16, high school sophomore, today pleaded guilty to the "puppy love" murder of Martha Markey, 15, and was sentenced by Circuit Judge G. H. Hoetscher to life imprisonment.

Young Sager confessed he killed the girl Aug. 26 with a rifle after she had told him she was going to have "a date with another boy." He later attempted to commit suicide.

New Suit Filed Over Olson Act

Another suit in connection with the new Olson act, regulating leasing of state-owned oil tide-lands, had been filed today against A. E. Stockburger, state director of finance, in Sacramento.

The action was filed yesterday by a writ of mandate to command the division of finance to receive a questionnaire form to be used in bidding for leases on tide-lands, and to force the state to entertain the bid.

Time some residents of the Yorba-Richfield area have been seeking to re-join the larger Fullerton district.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

Colonel Ralph D. Horton and wife of Los Angeles were guests of Huntington Beach Club No. 1 Thursday evening, as were Mr. and Mrs. William Ross, Belvedere Gardens, also Mrs. Sutliff, president of Huntington Park Club No. 4, and a party of friends. Ross is president of Belvedere Gardens Club No. 28. A. D. Marshall presided and Colonel Horton spoke. After the meeting refreshments were served. Delegations from other Orange county clubs attended. In the absence of Mrs. Ethel Catching, secretary, Miss Margaret Cole read communications from the 19th district board.

The message of Colonel Horton was an appeal for continued loyalty to Dr. Townsend. He called for a show of hands from those present who would pledge continued loyalty to Doctor Townsend. Almost the entire audience held up their hands. He lauded the doctor's natural qualifications of leadership and voiced the opinion that he was divinely guided. He said that with most men the epitaph on their tombstone was last distinguishing mark of their having been present in the world of affairs but voiced the conviction that with the doctor it would be different—that his name would live through the ages because of the eventual benefactions of his plan.

He voiced the opinion that the recent walkout at the Townsend Chicago office was but the culmination of a deep-set plan to destroy the Townsend movement but that the purge of the parties implicated in the effort was proving to be productive of benefit instead of harm. He thought in spirit the dissenting group had never been real Townsendites but had in effect been leeches on the Townsend movement while serving another paymaster.

He described the last session of congress as having had an opportunity to make itself amiable. He cited figures to prove that costs now borne by the government in connection with crime suppression and welfare were in excess of what the Townsend plan would cost. He prophesied elimination of such costs with the passage of the Townsend bill. He was heartily applauded.

Another meeting of interest Thursday evening was staged by Santa Ana club No. 3 in Townsend hall. In the absence of Phil S. Doolittle, president; Vice President Dr. U. G. Littell presided. The speaker was Mrs. Bessie D. Ribble, Los Angeles Townsend worker. Connected with the Biltmore theater open house program, she is constantly in touch with the latest news of the Townsend movement. She unraveled some of the mysteries heretofore connected with the Chicago situation. She pointed out the benefits that would accrue from remaining loyal to the leadership of the doctor and of the danger that would come of accepting other leadership. The heartiness with which her appearance was approved makes it likely that she will fill other engagements seen in Orange county.

From the Rev. E. M. Sutton, publicity chairman of the La Habra club No. 1 comes the announcement that the Rev. C. W. Phillee of Los Angeles will speak for the club Monday at 6:30 p. m. in the Masonic hall on Central avenue. A pot-luck dinner will be enjoyed. Rev. Sutton says "Neighboring club members cordially invited." E. E. Proud, president, will preside.

From Loretta Lytle, secretary of the Yorba Linda No. 1, comes the announcement of a pot-luck dinner which the club will serve next Monday at 6:30 p. m. in the Methodist church. The dinner will be followed by a business meeting and an entertainment. The public is invited.

The Garden Grove club No. 1 is to have a wedding next Monday in the American Legion hall at 7:30 p. m. The cast comes from Santa Ana club No. 11 and includes Burr Stokes, bridegroom; Elizabeth Eilman, bride; Mrs. E. C. Best, bridesmaid; Mrs. Grant Henderson, second bridesmaid; Mr. Best, best man; Fred Flower, bride's father; Mrs. Lee, flower girl; and Grant Henderson, minister. The group put on a rollicking farce and those attending are promised plenty of fun.

BOY ESCAPES IONE
Deputy sheriffs and Huntington Beach police today were searching for a Huntington Beach boy who was reported to have escaped from the Preston School of Industry, state reformatory at Ione. The boy was believed to have headed toward Orange county.

Death Suspect

Mrs. Anna Filser Hahn, 32, former German immigrant of Cincinnati, whom police questioned concerning more than $50,000 received from 11 elderly German acquaintances. Police believed 11 died of poisoning.

Fire Started by Benzol Blast

More spectacular than destructive, flames licked at the entire top of the Orange County Cabinet works, 1732 West Fifth street yesterday, then burned themselves out as quickly as they had started. The fire started when a can of benzol exploded as Proprietor M. E. Bates and his son, Vernon Bates, were mixing varnish remover. Benzol fumes in the top of the building ignited and burst into brilliant flame, but they extinguished themselves before they could ignite the building itself.

Damage amounted to slightly over $25, the fire department estimated. No damage was caused by any other fire yesterday afternoon at John Wikert's home, 609 Fairview. A short circuit in the wiring was blamed.

ORGAN RECITAL
SUNDAY, SEPT. 12—From 3 to 4 p. m.
William Ripley Dorr, Organist

AIR CONDITIONED For the comfort of our patrons and those attending services at beautiful Colonial Mortuary, the entire building has been equipped with modern air conditioning equipment, insuring cool, healthful air at all times. A complete change of air in every room each five minutes.

PIPE ORGAN A Hall six-stop Church Organ, with chimes, has been installed in the chapel of Colonial Mortuary. Beautiful and inspiring organ music will be available at all services without extra cost.

CHAPEL The serene dignity of the Colonial Chapel must be seen to be fully appreciated. The use of this chapel is included in all services, at no additional charge. It is also available for weddings at a nominal fee.

ALL NEW FEATURES Colonial Mortuary is up-to-date in every respect. Special rooms are provided for the convenience of the family; there are modern offices and consultation rooms; a special flower room, kept at a constant temperature, for the reception and care of floral displays; and a spotless preparation room in which the most advanced scientific equipment has been installed.

NEW MORTUARY OPENS SUNDAY

Completely equipped with new furniture and facilities, the spacious new quarters of Brown and Wagner's Colonial mortuary, on West Seventeenth street, will be formally opened with a reception tomorrow afternoon. The formal opening will extend through Tuesday.

The Sunday reception will be held from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., with an organ recital by William Ripley Dorr, prominent Palos Verdes organist, and a string ensemble from 3 to 4 p. m., featuring the musical program. A new six-stop church organ has been installed.

A white, colonial style building, the new plant contains 11 rooms and is equipped with the latest facilities. Emil Wagner explained today. The funeral home is operated by Wagner and Harold Brown.

The large funeral chapel is done in a white and sky blue color scheme, and an acoustic ceiling lining makes it possible to carry on a funeral ceremony without disturbing anyone in the rest of the building. The chapel has an atmosphere of softened brightness and tranquility.

The entire plant is air-conditioned to change the air in each room every five minutes, and heat is thermostatically controlled.

Other features of the new mortuary are a special flower room, a preparation room completely equipped with the latest facilities, and three slumber rooms to accommodate bereaved families.

Smoke Thief Hits Local Market

The burglar who broke into a Santa Ana warehouse and stole a cigaret vending machine a week ago either must be quite a smoker or he has a number of friends. Yesterday a similar burglary, at the Fourth Street market, 311 East Fourth street, was reported. Only things missing were 25 cartons of assorted cigarets valued at $31.25.

Candidates for a position as coordinator of the county-wide program of vocational training in the building trades went on parade before a local committee in charge of the program last night.

J. C. Beswick, chief of the state Bureau of Trade and Industrial Education, attended the dinner meeting at Daniger's cafe last night and assisted the committee in interviewing candidates.

Candidates who appeared before the committee included M. S. Bowen, Laguna Beach; L. E. Anderson, Santa Ana; Charles Dean, Laguna Beach and Elmer Schaniel, Santa Ana.

Another meeting will be held within the next few weeks, when a decision is expected to be reached as to who will get the job.

The program here is being carried on under terms of a state assembly bill which appropriated $136,826 for the work. A similar sum will be appropriated by the federal government. The amount of money Orange county will get depends entirely on the attendance at various classes.

Bridegroom Death To Be Probed

An inquest into the deaths Thursday night of Marvin Thompson, 25, young Anaheim bridegroom, and Bradley Humphreys, 16-year-old Fullerton High school student, will be conducted in the Backs, Terry and Campbell Funeral home at Anaheim at 3 p. m. Monday, Coroner Earl Abbey announced today.

The youths were killed when their cars collided at the intersection of Stanton and Manchester boulevards.

An inquest is still pending into the death of William Jackson, 45, 630 North Garnsey street, who was killed yesterday when he was hurled against a tree by a 100-pound pressure from a gas line on which he was working on West Fifth street.

Reconciliation of Young Couple Urged by Judge

"There is no profit in a lawsuit, especially in this kind. Now you two young people see if you can't get together again."

With these words Judge Clarence Harden of San Diego yesterday issued an order here requiring Harold S. Hicks, former Metropolitan Water district worker, to pay his divorced wife $50 a month alimony, $11 costs, and $100 attorney's fees.

Mrs. Hicks, who obtained a divorce here last month, has custody of the couple's four-year-old daughter, who scurried around the courtroom as the case was heard.

LUMBER DEALER SUES
Richard Nelson, owner of the Buena Park Lumber company, today had started suit in superior court for $461.68 against John C. Howe and Stella Howe. Nelson says the Howes refused to pay him for labor and materials used in erecting a building.

Now—A HOME TRULY WORTHY OF THE SERVICE

ANNOUNCING THE OPENING OF A NEW COMPLETELY MODERN MORTUARY. Sunday, Sept. 12th

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND

BROWN & WAGNER welcome you and urge you to come and bring your friends to inspect this splendid new Colonial Mortuary. The visit will be a revelation to many who may still believe that funeral services must necessarily be held in an atmosphere of depressing gloom. Open House will be held September 12 to 14, from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M. Courteous attendants will be glad to show you through the entire building and answer all questions pertaining to services in Colonial Mortuary.

CIVIC PLAN URGED AT COSTA MESA

Residents Favor Setup
At Mass Meeting

COSTA MESA.—A public mass meeting, specially called by the chamber of commerce Wednesday night for the purpose of discussing incorporation, an issue on which there has long been high feeling and much controversy, reached its close without bloodshed.

Several verbal battles marked the session but an overwhelming majority of the town's citizens who were present agreed that Costa Mesa was fast reaching the point where a sanitary district was mandatory, both for health and progress of the community.

No action was taken on the matter, President Morris Crawley having stated at the opening of the discussion that no motions would be in order; that the purpose of the meeting was solely to learn the viewpoint of the average citizen.

Other business included report on the garbage disposal problem, it appearing that a solution has been worked out. Tom Murphree, county health inspector, outlined the proposed arrangement which includes a garbage collection and disposal by the householder and from salvage. The dump would be located on South Placentia street, west garbage being disposed of to county hog ranches. Murphree said Supervisor West has approved the plan and the chamber of commerce would lend their backing, it was assured.

The standing committee on fire protection was empowered to select a suitable site from three offered for the new fire hall. The committee will meet next Tuesday with the fire department and discuss the best location. The three lots range in price from

Committees for Year Are Named for La Habra Club

LA HABRA.—The social and cultural season of the Woman's Improvement club opened Thursday with a concert program, offered by Serafin Strehoff, Russian singer, known as the Singing Globe Trotter, following a luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Maude L. Smith, new president, was in charge of the meeting. She appointed her standing committees of the year at the business meeting.

The committees include Miss Anna Hopper, chairman of the study section; Mrs. Elsie Brewster, ways and means; with Mrs. Anna Williams, Mrs. Leora Walling, Mrs. Loretta Shannon, Mrs. Louise Weisel, Mrs. Bertha Hilbert, Mrs. Marian Wilhoite, and Mrs. Imogene Weaver assisting; Mrs. Adaline Young, chairman, and Mrs. Hattie Stephens, and Mrs. Florence Wilson, program and year book; Mrs. Alta Scott, chairman, and Mrs. Mary Hoard,

Orange Officials At Convention

ORANGE.—City Councilman Kellar Watson, Jr., and City Attorney Gordon X. Richmond left Friday night for the convention of the California State League of Municipalities at San Jose.

Other city officials who will leave in time to be present at the first session Monday are Mayor A. C. Boice, Councilmen Henry Bandick, C. M. Carlson and City Engineer C. G. Bonebrake. The convention will close Thursday evening.

$200 to $600, with the majority of the committee favoring the latter site.

Chamber Secretary Dr. C. G. Huston tendered his resignation, which was accepted, Mrs. Nell Murbarger being elected to fill the vacancy.

CLEMENTE TAX RATE IS SET

SAN CLEMENTE.—The new tax rate for San Clemente has been set at $1.40 according to an ordinance adopted by the city council at an adjourned meeting. The new rate is 23 cents higher than the rate of last year due largely to a 10 per cent increase in salary for all city employees.

Based on the city budget the basic tax rate is $1.00 to which is added 10 cents for aid to delinquent assessment bonds of the 1932 act; 22 cents on the 1932 waterworks improvement assessment bonds; 4 cents on the 1932 municipal refunding bond assessment and 4 cents on the 1934 waterworks bonds.

The total city budget amounts to $63,301.28 against $51,223.26 last year. The assessed valuation of all taxable property in the city is fixed at $3,012,949 and the difference between the amount to be collected by taxation and the estimated budget will be met by the city's various sources of revenue such as sale of water, police court fines, fishing and pier concessions, golf course receipts, and social club receipts.

G. G. TEACHERS ARE NAMED

GARDEN GROVE.—Elementary schools of the Garden Grove district will reconvene at 9 a. m. Monday, one week in advance of the high school, according to announcement of Superintendent S. R. Fitz. Buses on the opening day he said, will run on the same schedule as last year.

Teaching assignments also were announced.

At the Washington school H. W. Emley as principal will teach arithmetic. Other teachers will be Walter Lehnhardt, Helen Knox, Opal Knox, Floyd McCown, Pauline Merchant, Mary Margaret Reed, Miriam Rich, Estelle Sherman, Fairo Virgin, Susan Walker, and Helen Wieseman.

Lincoln school will have Mrs. Ethel Evans as principal. Teachers will be Howard Moore, Lucille Allen, Matilda Hill, Marcella Turner, Alicia Carmichael, Mabel Burdard, Lois Curward, Cora Lee Ritter, Gladys Summerfield, Helen Apperle, and Beth Toland. At Hoover school, Mrs. Mary Thompson will be principal. Teachers will be Marjorie Ralston, Eulalie Head, Eunice Bragg, Floyce Haas, Mary Moody, Hazel Fulton, and Allen Goddard.

Bolsa school teachers will be Lillie Comer as principal, Dorothy Knapp, and Mignon Waters. Helen Gramlich is school nurse.

Friday Afternoon Club to Meet

COSTA MESA.—The Friday Afternoon club's first meeting of the new fall season will be held Friday, Sept. 17, it was announced today by Mrs. Norris Mellett, president.

The meeting will open with a 12:30 o'clock luncheon, at which American Legion auxiliary members will be hostess to the Women's club.

Center's Home Section Meets

ORANGE.—The Foothill Farm center home department held the first meeting of the autumn in the demonstration room of the Farm bureau building Tuesday, with Miss Frances Liles in charge.

It was announced the next meeting will feature a talk by Mrs. Laura K. Warren, executive secretary of the Red Cross, on home accidents.

S. C. School To Open Monday

SAN CLEMENTE.—The San Clemente elementary school will begin its new year Monday. The teaching staff this year will be composed of Donald Todd, principal; Miss Caryll Calk and Miss Lois Sturgeon. It is expected that the enrollment will be greater than in past years due to the influx of new residents into the city.

Former Hansen Principal Visits

HANSEN.—Mrs. Helene Schuerman, Anaheim, former principal of the Savana school, spent several days recently as a guest of Mrs. Ralph Vipond. Mrs. Schuerman leaves this week to assume her new post as principal of a school in Lucerne Valley.

Orange Teacher Returns Today

ORANGE.—Miss Shirley Haynes, teacher in the Orange High school, is scheduled to return today from a European tour. She is traveling to the West coast by train, and will be met by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Haynes, at Pomona.

CARD CLUB MEETS

LA HABRA.—Members of the Standard Oil Club of La Habra met Wednesday at the Murohy lease. Mrs. E. Sigmund and Mrs. Black were hostesses, and Mrs. Black and Mrs. A. E. Beal of Long Beach were prize winners.

VISIT IN C. M.

COSTA MESA.—Mrs. W. W. Ower and daughter, Barbara Jean, Minneapolis, have been guests at the John F. Webster home for the past two weeks.

WELFARE SESSION SET
COSTA MESA.—General Welfare League Post 14, of Costa Mesa, will meet Monday evening at 1962 Harbor boulevard for the purpose of discussing important business, it was announced today by Mrs. Frank Parsons, chairman of publicity.

Weekly Citrus Review

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—California oranges and lemons were both stronger during the past four-day week in eastern and middle western auction centers.

Valencias got up 14 cents per box to a weekly auction average of $5.31 while the volume dipped 44 cars to a total of 465.

Lemons were strong throughout the week and moved 55 cents a box higher to an auction average of $7.01. Lemon volume was 82 cars less to a total of 130 cars.

W. C. Frackelton, general manager for the California-Arizona orange and grapefruit agency, announced next week's voluntary prorata at 750 cars of Valencias in interstate commerce and 75 in intrastate commerce. This is unchanged from last week.

Pacific coast citrus markets were about steady with demand fair during the week, the Federal State Market News Service reported today. Arrivals were smaller in San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Los Angeles.

WOMAN'S CLUB OPENS YEAR

BARBER CITY.—Members of the Woman's club opened the club year with a covered-dish luncheon, at the clubhouse Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret Prindle, president, presided. Present were Mrs. Adeline Olsen, Mrs. Hubert Tyler, Mrs. E. B. Finley, Mrs. Wilhelmina Davey, Mrs. J. Robinson, Mrs. Alice Thresher, Mrs. E. W. Johnson, and Mrs. Ray Finley.

Plans for a benefit party for the club slated for the evening of Sept. 24 were discussed and Mrs. E. W. Johnson, social chairman, will be in charge of the affair. Members also voted to exhibit a basket of flowers at the flower show which the federated clubs are promoting at the Valencia ballroom Saturday and Sunday.

Cravath Honors Team at Brea

BREA.—Gavvy Cravath, former National League outfielder, was guest speaker last night at the annual baseball dinner given members of the Brea softball team by the junior chamber of commerce, the Lions club and the American Legion post.

Cravath, now municipal judge of Laguna Beach, was at one time manager of the "Phillies" and following a discussion of his career, the Brea players received their "money" from their "world series." They are having an outing tonight and Sunday at the beach.

Postpone Library Rite to Oct. 1

LA HABRA.—In order to have present Miss Dorothy Wentz, dedicating the new library building of La Habra, which has been constructed as a PWA project, has been postponed from Sept. 17, as first announced, until Oct. 1. Miss Wentz is present in on her vacation.

The La Habra Kiwanis club is in charge of the program for the celebration.

Plan New Homes In Brea District

BREA.—Development of the 200 block on South Orange street is under way with erection of a first of several homes to be constructed by Thompson and Sons.

The first house will be a combination frame and stucco structure and will include a living room, two bedrooms, a kitchen, breakfast room, and ample wardrobe spaces.

New Playground Planned at B. P.

BURENA PARK.—A new playground is to be added to the Grand avenue school grounds, according to announcement of the board of trustees, which has purchased five lots on Melrose avenue, at the end of the school property, for the purpose. The purchase price of the lots was $1000.

P-T. A. Board to Meet on Monday

BUENA PARK.—Members of the executive board of the Grand avenue P-T. A. will be guests of Mrs. Harold Redelberger at her home on Western avenue Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Marion Whittet, president, and the board will plan the year's work.

Church Topics Announced

WINTERSBURG.—The Rev. George Quayle will speak on "Getting Enthusiastic About Religion" at the Sunday morning service of the Methodist church here. In the evening his subject will be "The Joy of Life."

CLEMENTE CLUB MEETS

SAN CLEMENTE.—The Every-Other-Wednesday club met at the home of Mrs. Mary Wedderburn last Wednesday. Present were Mesdames Thurman, Shork, Parsons, Bartlett, Klayner and Misses Lane and Ochsen.

"If Huntington Beach gets away with using Louie Neva, I believe I'll start robbing banks as a sideline to sports writing."

Thus wrote the San Bernardino newshawk, Bob Walton, in commenting upon the Ponies' impending Shaughnessy night final with either Huntington Beach or Anaheim.

"Neva, I will grant you, is on the Oiler roster. Never was anything else. But Neva, dear friends, is now a professional baseball player. Therefore how can he, a pro, play with a club that is strictly 'amateur'? Or, to put it another way, how can Neva risk selling the purity of his professional standing by associating with the 'amateurs' of the National league?"

Walton's squawking—and that of other inland scribes—is typical, it seems, of the feeling expressed by San Bernardino fans, judging from the concentrated boos that greeted Jimmy Coates in a Santa Ana uniform up there the other night. San Bernardino regards Coates an "outlaw" just as much as the great Russian, Neva.

San Bernardino apparently is talking its way right out of the National league. Nothing is definite yet, but "Millionaire Al" Morgan of Riverside, onetime president of the Punct American league, already has formulated plans of organizing a new league with Riverside, San Bernardino, Pomona, Ontario and one or two other inland clubs probable members.

Probable withdrawal of San Bernardino will leave the National league faced with the problem of revamping its membership. Huntington Beach's defending champion Oiler, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Orange and Westminster, from all indications, will retain their franchises. Either Irvine or Brea might be invited to replace San Bernardino when—and if—the Ponies evacuate.

W. W. (Bill) Foote, Saint coach, has made two wagers with friends that Moxie Schmeling knocks out Champion Joe Louis next June.

Bottom of the barrel: Return of the great Russian, Louie Neva, doesn't detract from this department's prediction that Huntington Beach's Oiler will retain the Southern California softball championship. . . . St. Mary's has won 20, lost 13 and tied four of 37 football games with Pacific Coast conference teams. Although not a member, St. Mary's abides by all conference rules. . . . A Denver golfer, Harold Long, scored seven under par with a 30 on a nine-hole course, yet didn't break par on a single hole. He bagged eight birdies and took a 5 on the par 4 fourteenth. . . . Water, the new athletic director at Chaffey Union High school. . . . Vernon Koepsel, one of the best sprinters in Don annuals, left Wednesday for his senior year at San Diego State.

COLIMA STOPS
BILL BARNES

HOLLYWOOD. (P)—Bert Colima, 2nd, 144-pound Los Angeles slugger and holder of the California welterweight title, scored a seven-round technical knockout last night over Billy Barnes, Salt Lake City, weighing 143 pounds. For six rounds, Barnes had been the aggressor and was leading on points when a hard right to the chin sent him to the floor in a dazed condition. The Utah fighter came up with a willingness to slug it out, and twice more was sent to the canvas for counts.

Rather than allow the game Barnes to suffer injury in his semi-conscious condition, Referee Abe Roth stopped the bout, giving the verdict to Colima.

What promises to be the fastest and most spectacular wrestling match seen in this section in many months is billed for Monday night at the Orange County Athletic club, when the former world champion, Vincent Lopez, meets Kiman Kudo, the Japanese champion.

The match promises to be fast and furious not only because Kudo and Lopez represent the best of heavyweight wrestling, but because last year Kudo fractured Lopez' leg in a Fresno bout, putting the former world champion

Planned for Public
Picnic at Lake Park

Dick Miller, world's champion dry-fly and salmon fly caster, will be the toast of his home community, Huntington Beach, tomorrow.

Leading citizens of the oil town will turn out for a picnic at Lake Park on North Main street, Huntington Beach, to pay tribute to the ace fisherman, who just recently returned from New York, scene of the casting championships.

Louie Shannon of Santa Ana, vice president of the Huntington Beach bait and fly-casting club of which Miller is president, announces Miller will give a demonstration of long-distance casting at Lake Park. Shannon accompanied Miller to the New York contests.

Other members of the Huntington Beach club and a representative from the Long Beach club will give demonstrations of casting as done on lakes and streams, it is planned.

Shannon urges all picnickers to bring their own basket lunches.

STEELE RISKS
FIGHT TITLE

SEATTLE. (P)—When Freddie Steele, the pride of Tacoma, Wash., climbs into the ring tonight to battle Ken Overlin, it will be the fourth time in slightly more than a year that he has risked his midweight boxing crown.

Overlin of Washington, D. C., is one of the cleverest boxers in the division, but Steele, 10 to 10, is a favorite to retain the championship.

Since winning the title from Babe Risko of Syracuse, N. Y., in July last year, Steele has stopped three challengers. He scored a knockdown and a decision over Gerilla Jones, won a decision over Risko in a return bout in New York, and knocked out Frankie Battaglia in three rounds.

Overlin jumped into prominence early this year when he defeated Fred Apostoli of San Francisco in New York.

DONS DRILL AT BOWL MONDAY

Headquarters for Santa Ana Jaycee's football team's Southland title defense will be transferred to the Municipal bowl Monday afternoon at 3:30 where the Dons will begin a 11-week stand which takes them through five practice tilts and six conference engagements.

Workouts were suspended for this afternoon but the real digging in will be started in preparation for the first and most important to most of the 1936 Dons with Pasadena Jaycee. In preparation for the Bulldogs, Cook has lined up the U. S. S. Mississippi for a scrimmage in the bowl's greensward Tuesday at 2:30.

Dutch Clark Leads
Detroit Lions to
28-0 Grid Victory

CHICAGO. (P)—Earl (Dutch) Clark, considered by many the greatest all-around player in professional football ever known, made his first start as a coach a winning one.

Clark, who succeeded George (Potsy) Clark as coach of the Detroit Lions, led his team to a 28-0 victory last night over the National Professional Football league's newest member, the Cleveland Rams. While he did not score a touchdown, he showed he still has his famous "educated toe" by converting two points after touchdowns.

Detroit piled up a 21-to-0 lead in the first half.

A lone pass by Fred Nori, former northern Illinois Teachers College star, to Jeff Barrett in the final quarter gave Brooklyn's Dodgers a 13-to-7 win over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Lopez never has forgiven Kudo and Monday night expects to gain revenge. However, Kudo has proved anything but a sweet to fall. Pico draws "Two Ton" Jacobs, and Louie Miller, the rough and tumble Bulgarian, faces Del Kundle in other bouts.

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Dolphin, yellowfin tuna and skipjack have kept the fishermen here busy this week. Local waters have been alive with marlin and the trolling boats have been getting them, as well as the tuna and dolphin. Surf fishermen are having to be content with only fair fishing, mostly yellowfin, but a few corbina are being caught. Sand crabs and salted anchovies are the most effective bait. A few corbina have been caught from the Balboa pier. Spottin croaker are beginning to run in Newport bay and a good run is anticipated during the next two months.

Halibut and mackerel are being caught from the "California" barge. The "Dina Lee" and "Jennie Lee" have ceased operations for the winter. The "Flyer" and "Tilikum" expected to stop running after the holidays, but no definite word has come from Mr. Graves as to whether they have or not.

From the Sportfishing headquarters at 1015 Coast highway, the following schedule of live bait boats is in effect:

"Sea Wolf" leaves at 4 a. m. for Catalina. "Elmo" leaves at 5 a. m. for Catalina. Special boat leaves at 6 a. m. for Catalina. ("Elmo" does not make a trip on Mondays).

A fine fleet of trolling boats is also available here and some exciting catches have been made from them.

LOYOLA GREET'S DON MENTOR
Butterworth Grooms Lions

LOS ANGELES.—Ernest Butterworth, rugby expert from England and British Columbia, was on hand today to teach Tom Lieb's Loyola Lions the niceties of lateral passes and other wide-open football.

Appointment of Butterworth, the Canadian who coached Santa Ana's Dons to a junior college rugby championship this spring, was announced exclusively in The Journal Thursday.

Butterworth made his initial appearance on the Loyola field yesterday afternoon, along with 32 candidates for the Lions' squad. Lieb has received assurance from 22 others, detained by summer jobs, that they will be in uniform for Monday's practice.

CAN PECCIANTI OF TROJANS HOLD UP?

LOS ANGELES. (P)—One of the chief coaches of Coach Howard Jones during the next two weeks will be the right knee of Angelo Peccianti, first string fullback for University of Southern California's grid squad.

Peccianti injured the knee in the Washington State game last week and played no more the rest of the year. He admitted the best full back in the country will be given a rigid test before the season opens to see if the knee will stand action.

HUSKIES GIRL FOR
IOWA GAME SEPT. 25

SEATTLE. (P)—Washington's Pacific coast conference champions lacked zip, fire, football weather and services of two stars today as the Huskies sweltered in 70-degree temperature. Substitutes were needed at both end positions in scrimmage session today after Frank Peters, varsity end and Jim Lanau, sophomore end, were forced to the sideline with injuries. Peters suffered a wrenched back. The squad appeared to lack its usual efficiency and speed. The Huskies open the season Sept. 25 with Iowa.

Forty-seven Gaels
Prepare for Bears

MORAGA, Calif. (P)—Forty-seven students, many of them veterans of last year's powerful team, answered the first call for football practice at St. Mary's yesterday.

The Gaels tackle University of California in their first game September 25.

STARKEY'S TWO HOMERS AID
HODGSON OF IRVINE, 4 TO 3

Irvine was still going strong to off in the Examiner's softball championship tournament after a well-earned 4-3 win over the Los Angeles Safeway nine last night. Tonight, in the semi-final round, Irvine plays Uplands Hotpoint and its Cal Calloway, strikeout king, at Loyola stadium, 2000 Venice boulevard.

The County league representatives wouldn't be where they are now without two timely home runs off the bat of First-Baseman Ed Starkey, who was by far the offest hero of the tilt. His 11th-inning blow shattered a 3-3 deadlock which had stood since the fifth frame, and to match it Ray Hodgson, who toiled in place of Ira DeBusk, put on a 14-strike-out performance while limiting the Los Angeles squad to seven hits.

DeBusk took over second base, left vacant by the absence of George Padias. Starkey had to take over Hodgson's first-base job, and Burns went to short in place of Merle Hapes.

Safeway got off to a fast start with one run in the opening frame

(This is another of a series dealing with prospects of major football teams.)

By DILLON GRAHAM

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (P)—It looks as though Navy will have to win its football games the hard way this fall.

The Sailors haven't a single shifty speedster who can reel off big chunks of turf yardage, so they must employ the slower try, try again process of consistent short takes.

"We'll just have to keep pounding away and see if we can't outlast the other fellow," smiled Harry J. (Hank) Hardwick, the husky naval-lieutenant who succeeded Lt. Tom Hamilton as coach.

FINE RECORD

Hamilton, back on sea duty now, left Hardwick, his teammate on Navy's famous 1926 eleven, a fine mark at which to shoot. Hamilton's teams not only beat Army for the first time in 13 years but also won two of three contests with the Soldiers, as well as with Notre Dame.

Graduation took a dozen lettermen and two are almost irreplaceable—Zeke Soucek, a fine end, and Sneed Schmidt, a fancy kicker and ball-tugger who scored the winning touchdown over the Cadets last season.

Schmidt's loss, perhaps as much as anything else, has caused Hardwick to switch from Hamilton's style of play to one of his own devising.

Without a crack punter we couldn't go far running from kick formation," explained Hardwick. "So, we're trying a system I've watched through adopting the strong points of the various basic styles of attack. We'll maneuver mostly from a close, flexible formation."

STRONG AS 1936?

"I believe our team will be about as strong as last year. While we lost some good men, those who returned will have an additional year of experience. We have a good bunch of forwards, and two sets of nice backs, even though none is a clinic runner."

Although he's new as a head coach, Hardwick is a familiar figure to seniors who'll carry the load for him. He coached them when they were Plebes.

The schedule: Sept. 25, William and Mary; Oct. 2, The Citadel; 9, Virginia; 16, Harvard at Baltimore; 23, Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.; 30, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Nov. 6, Columbia; 20, Princeton at Princeton; 27, Army at Philadelphia.

ELKS OUT OF TOURNEY, 8-2

Kenneth Miller's Santa Ana Elks turned their attention to the City Softball league playoffs with Montgomery Ward today, after being eliminated from the Examiner's southland tournament, 8 to 2, by San Bernardino last night.

In a complete reversal of form, the Elks bowed out of the tournament when Leo Anderson issued eight walks and two home runs, one by McDermoth with two aboard and the other by Benson with the bases empty—at Good-year park.

San Bernardino went into the fourth with a 4-1 lead and into the sixth with a 7-2 advantage.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

LLOYD WANER, Pirates—Hit four for six and drove in winning run with ninth inning single to beat Reds, 7-6.

BOB JOHNSON, Athletics—His homer and single drove in four runs in 5-3 victory over Senators.

TEX CARLETON and GABBY HARTNETT, Cubs—Carleton pitched six-hit, fanning 11 as Hartnett hit two homers in 11-0 win over Cardinals.

ELBIE FLETCHER and DAN- NIE MACPADDEN, Bees—Fletcher drove in both runs in 12-inning, 2-1 win over Giants; MacPadden, tight with men on bases, pitched 11 scoreless innings.

JOHNNY HEVING, Indians—Held Tigers to two runs for four innings and drove in two runs with double in 6-5 victory.

FIVE DOUBLE
BILLS WORRY
N. L. LEADERSCritics Doubt Terry
Hurlers Can Hold
Up in Home StretchBy SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of "Simon Legrees" are snapping their whips at the Giants, and the Terry Terriers don't know which is worse—Boston's belittling Bees, or those old villains, the schedule-mixers.

They still had a two-game lead in the National league ten days today, but between the Bees stinging them on one side, and the schedule arrangers needing them on the other, there's no telling how long it's going to last.

FIVE DOUBLEHEADERS

As though their current series with the Bees weren't enough, what with a 2-1 decision the Boston took in yesterday's 12-inning opener to widen their edge in the season series, the Giants looked over the remainder of the schedule and found things had been fixed up just dandy—for the other fellows.

They noted they have five doubleheaders scheduled for the 21 playing days still remaining. But what provided an extra case of the deep blue blues was that four of these bargain bills are scheduled for four consecutive days during the last week of the season, and two of them were with (guess whom?)—the Boston Bees.

Where, Bill Terry wants to know now, is he going to get eight starting pitchers for those four days, Sept. 27 to 30, inclusive? And if he gets them, how is he going to knock off the Bees in four straight games?

The way things are going now, it may come down to a case of win or else by the time his Giants tangle with the Bees and Phillies in those four straight doubleheaders.

At the moment, as the result of yesterday's setback and the Cubs' top-sided 11-0 win over the Cardinals here, the way the situation shaped up:

	W.	L.	To play
--	----	----	---------

Giants..... 78 50 26

Cubs..... 77 53 24

Yesterday's struggle with the Bees was a swell ball game, but it didn't wind up right for the Giants. Hal Schumacher and Deacon Danny MacFayden hooked up in a duel as tight as a hangman's noose for 11 innings, but Prince Hal couldn't get by Elbie Fletcher with the bases loaded in the 12th, and the Bees won their ninth win in 16 starts against the Giants this year.

HITS TWO HOMERS

Gabby Hartnett and Tex Carleton, meantime, slaughtered the Cardinals. Hartnett hammered two homers, Schumacher and Deacon Danny MacFayden hooked up in a duel as tight as a hangman's noose for 11 innings, but Prince Hal couldn't get by Elbie Fletcher with the bases loaded in the 12th, and the Bees won their ninth win in 16 starts against the Giants this year.

Lefty (Old Reliable) Grove handed the Yankees their second straight defeat, pitching the Red Sox to a 4-3 decision. But since the second-place Tigers were trounced 6-5 by the Indians, in spite of Bobby Feller, it still left the Yankees with an 11-game American league lead.

The Pirates topped the Reds, 7-6, in the ninth, and the Athletics whipped the Senators, 5-3, on Bob Johnson's four runs-batted in. The rest of the big league family (Phillies, Dodgers, White Sox and Browns) had a holiday.

'Good Boy,' Says Mickey to York

Rudy York (left), who tried in vain for an infield post with the Detroit Tigers, is shown receiving congratulations from Manager Mickey Vernon on making good as a catcher—the old post of Cochrane. Mickey has been amazed by York's slugging, which netted 18 home runs in one month and broke Babe Ruth's record by one.

Home Runs as H. B. Earns 3 to 2 Edge

Two of the National Nightball league season's prettiest home runs—by Louie Neva and Floyd Montgomery—went down in the books at Huntington Beach last night when Joe Rodgers' defending champion Oilers drubbed Anaheim, 9 to 3, to take a 3-2 edge in the Shaughnessy playoffs. The sixth and perhaps deciding struggle will be played at Anaheim Tuesday night.

Rodgers will send Neva to the mound again "to clinch the right to play San Bernardino for the Southern California title." Frank (Chico) Sabella and "Fuzzy" Errington will be in relief.

CHICAGO CHAMPIONSHIPS
CHICAGO. (P)—With games scheduled on all four diamonds at Soldier Field, the world's championship softball tournament began its rain-delayed program today.

Last night's program was called after the girls' defending champions, the National Manufacturing team of Cleveland, had gained a five-inning, 1 to 0 lead on the Langley's of Toronto, Ont.

This game was to be resumed today at the point at which it was called. The other scheduled contest, between Chicago and the men's champion, Kodak Park of Rochester, N. Y., was advanced to today's program.

who blasted a home run, double and two singles off the great Neva for a perfect evening, shoved Anaheim off to a two-run lead in the first inning when he drove a blistering liner down the right-field sidelines with Fred Wiseman aboard.

Neva's circuit smash, in the same inning, cleared the leftfield wall, and was one of the greatest hits of the year. None was aboard.

Orange Lionettes, fresh from a 13-4 trimming of Averill's Stars, and the Cantlay-Tanzola nine, which eliminated San Diego's touted club, 12-4, collide in the semi-finals of the girls' division at Fiedler field, Hollywood, tonight. The winner will gain the Southern California amateur tournament finals to be conducted at Wrigley field.

Los Angeles Monday night. Although scoring twice, the Orange girls started off disastrously against Averill's when Lois Terry developed a wild streak and walked SIX rivers for four runs in the first inning. She was relieved by Bobbie Wakeham, who hurled shutout ball until the seventh when Terry came back to the mound to retire the last two girls.

Averill's will send its pitching ace, Embree, against Terry in the semi-finals, which will be played immediately following a boys' game between Ventura and San Bernardino at 7:45 p. m. on the El Centro and Sunset boulevard diamond.

Melita Forster, who patrols third, and Phoebe Miller, leftfielder, were hitting stars for Orange, each collecting three of the Lionettes' 11 hits.

DURBIN FILM IS ACCLAIMED

Moving picture fans were wildly enthusiastic over the performance of Deanna Durbin in "Three Smart Girls," but she has even a more outstanding role in her newest starring picture, "100 Men and a Girl," which opened last night at the West Coast theater with "Charlie Chan on Broadway."

Deanna Durbin is surrounded by a wealth of the screen's greatest personalities, including the famous composer and conductor, Leopold Stokowski, who contributes some beautiful music, Adolphe Menjou, Alice Brady, Eugene Palette, Mischa Auer, Billy Gilbert, Alma Kruger and Ted Prouty.

A comedy, the story tells of an impoverished musician, played by Menjou, the father of Miss Durbin, who unsuccessfully tries to land a job with Stokowski's orchestra. Finding a sum of money, he deceives his child into believing he is working. The deception is discovered in a rather tragic manner by the girl. But meanwhile Menjou and Auer have been rehearsing a group of unemployed musicians. Miss Durbin prevails upon Stokowski to listen to her singing with them, and the result is a joyous climax to the entertaining film.

Warner Oland, as the wily Chinese sleuth in "Charlie Chan on Broadway," becomes involved in weird doings of those who live on the shadowy side of New York's night club, political and newspaper life. A girl and a man, whose actions appear to make them a menace to a number of lives, are murdered, and by force of circumstances Chan's son is implicated. Chan is faced by a baffling mystery, but by using a candid camera he solves the crime.

Short subjects include a color cartoon, "Speaking of the Weather," a Sportlight, "Picking Pets," and World News events.

BOOK MUSICAL, FLOOD DRAMA

The crashing sweep of a mighty river in flood roars an unforgettable background to a gripping story of men and women in peril, in "On Such a Night," which will open at the Broadway theater next Thursday with Bobby Breen's musical feature, "Make a Wish."

"On Such a Night," featuring a cast headed by Grant Richards, Karen Morley, Roscoe Karns and Eduardo Ciannelli, is the thrilling story of a group of people trapped by flood waters of the Mississippi river. Miss Morley plays the role of a beautiful Broadway star who deserts her show on opening night to hurry to the small Louisiana town where her husband is convicted of murder. How the flood brings about a confession from the real murderer makes for tense drama.

"Make a Wish" is a typically Bobby Breen story. It also carries a love story which involves Basil Rathbone and Marian Claire, the famous radio singer. The colorful scenery and fine music feature the film, in which Bobby engineers a romance between Rathbone and his young mother.

Broadway Books Bing Crosby Film

Starting next Saturday the Broadway theater will present Paramount's new comedy with music, "Double or Nothing," with Bing Crosby and Martha Raye in the star positions, and "I Cover the War," saga of the newsreel cameramen who defy death in far countries to thrill the world.

The cast of "Double or Nothing" includes Andy Devine, Mary Halse, William Frawley, Fay Holden, Samuel S. Hinds, William Henry, the comedy team, the Calgary Brothers, the eccentric dancing team of Amos and Arno. There are 75 beautiful girls and handsome young men known as the "Singing Band," who use no musical instruments yet produce melodious music.

"I Cover the War" stars John Wayne and Gwen Gaze, the latter being a newcomer from the English stage. It reaches a climax when Wayne, sent out to photograph a mysterious and sinister Arab chieftain, is captured and learns of a plot to ambush and wipe out an unsuspecting British army contingent.

Primitive peoples in nearly every portion of the world have had legends of a great flood.

Stars of "Stella Davis"

"Lady for a Day"

Warren William and May Robson in the revival of the Damon Runyon story of "Apple Annie," which will be shown at Walker's theater for three days starting Sunday, are shown here. "San Quentin," featuring Pat O'Brien and Humphrey Bogart, will be the companion feature.

Correct Early Training of Youths Will Avoid Many Heartaches for Parents

Sometimes when I read a letter just brimming over with woe, I am tempted to merely make a terse answer, "Written 30 years too late!" If ever I had the desire to do this, it was after I waded through a long, long letter from a mother. It is a life history of many an American family—mother and dad married young, struggled and sacrificed, had succeeded, mother got the new home and all the trimmings and then both mother and dad "kept their noses to the grindstone" early and late, so that son and daughter might have a better start in life than they had.

Result: They're just a couple of old folks now, and are supposed to sit at home and be content, while the family car is driven miles and miles—they're supposed to pay for wreckage, wear and tear and what have you? The home is all too often turned into a cocktail lounge while the younger generation reigns supreme.

Oh, this and just loads more of ingratitude and injustice while mother does the work and dad pays the bills— Perhaps there isn't much this mother and dad can do now. They have obliterated themselves completely for years, given all, asked for nothing from their offspring. Of course, they can set the parental foot down and stamp it hard, but perhaps it will have no effect, except a regular family rumple and the kids having the upper hand will eventually win by one turn or another.

Maybe this state of affairs might have some effect on other fathers and mothers whose sons and daughters are small, unruly, selfish and demanding.

Sometimes it seems that the more children have, the less willing they are to do favors for others and to be accommodating. If we study it out, it has lots of precedent, however. It is what many call the psychology of the rich, or the complacency of the blessed. So the child who finds an alibi every time he is asked to exert himself a bit is only acting true to form. Each child is a person, not an object. When his ego and importance to himself become enlarged then he is slow to discommodate himself.

But all the rich are not selfish, and all the self-satisfied are not ungracious. When there is a germ of concern for others in anyone's system, his state of being will not interfere with his generosity.

We hear quite often such comments as, "How could John treat his parents so hatefully when they gave him everything a boy could wish? Where is his gratitude?" Strange as it may seem, gratitude is not nourished on favors received but on favors given. Owe a man and you dislike him. Lend him some, and you grow fond of him as often as not. This is why the chronic borrower finds it so easy to repeat his requests successfully.

The best way, I believe, to rouse surfeited children into giving and doing, is to have them return favors automatically from the time they are able to hand out a bite of apple. If repeated often enough, the mind gets into the habit of thinking away from self. The mind must act always from self impulse if giving is to be a part of nature. Prompting won't be sufficient to establish a habit.

Emotion enters into it, of course, but here we have another problem, and a tangled one. Neither child or man will do favors for anyone he dislikes, and it goes still deeper because only those he loves are oftentimes the only recipients. In such a case it is self that prompts the giving, and self only, through extended personality. It is easily proved by the fact that a man violently in love will let his own parents starve sometimes, while he showers diamonds on a paramour. The child, to be taught obligation and generosity, must be conditioned to it early and continually.

NEWS STORY ON STATE BILL

Franchot Tone, Madge Evans, Stuart Erwin, Joseph Calleia, Louise Henry and Robert Barrett are featured in one of the most outstanding newspaper stories ever brought to the screen, "Exclusive Story," opening tomorrow at the State theater for three days, with the hostile and hilarious romance, "You Can't Beat Love," co-starring Preston Foster and Joan Fontaine. Added is the new serial "Roaring West" with "Buck" Jones in the title role.

"Exclusive Story" deals dramatically with the notorious "policy racket" of New York, telling in swift narrative the crusade against these modern day racketeers by a young newspaper publisher and the beautiful daughter of a racket victim.

Stuart Erwin portrays the reporter whose unearthing of evidence leads to the apprehension of the gang. Joseph Calleia is the rat-headed public enemy and gang leader.

A small town political war, with the sky as the limit so far as rules and ethics are concerned, provides the background for the exciting and hilarious events in "You Can't Beat Love."

All the bitterness that marks the small town political contest is combined with the strong-arm activities of a crooked faction, all contrasted, however, by the fun charged situations arising from Preston Foster's methods to defeat his sweetheart's father for reelection as mayor.

Herbert Mundin, Frank M. Thomas, Paul Hurst, William Brisbane, Barbara Pepper and Berton Churchill appear in prominent roles in "You Can't Beat Love."

Double Bill to End at Walker's

"New Faces of 1937" and "Behind the Headlines," the double feature program now showing at Walker's theater, will close with a complete performance after 9:30 tonight.

"New Faces of 1937" features the singing of Harriet Hilliard and William Brady and the dancing of Ann Miller. The comedy of Joe Penner, Parkyakarkus and Milton Berle as well as the choral numbers and vaudeville skits make "New Faces" outstanding entertainment. "Behind the Headlines," featuring Lee Tracy as radio newscaster, covers the battle between the reporters on city dailies who are "scooped" by Lee Tracy. Diana Gibson plays Tracy's sweetheart and a rival reporter.

Showing for the last time tonight, at the State theater, will be a program including Charles Starrett in "Two Fisted Sheriff," a comedy "Blonde Bomber," featuring Joe Palooka, a Betty Boop cartoon, "House Cleaning Blues," a new reel and a chapter of "Jungle Jim."

State Shows Two Films Wednesday

Creating a welcome precedent in film mystery stories, "The Great Hospital Mystery," comes to the State theater Wednesday for two days, along with H. G. Wells' first screen comedy, "The Man Who Could Work Miracles," starring Roland Young. "In My Gondola," a novelty reel is the added attraction.

"The Great Hospital Mystery," is a remarkable tale of the night superintendent of a hospital, Jane Darwell, whose customary aggravation with her lousy assistant, Joan Davis, is quickly forgotten in the puzzling circumstances of the shooting of a patient already dead. "The Man Who Could Work Miracles," with Roland Young, is the story of a timid little English clerk who suddenly becomes a miracle worker. There is only one miracle he finds himself incapable of working, and that is making pretty Joan Gardner fall in love with him.

ly. Some children take to it easily, while others are slow to respond, and it will work to a certain degree if the parent persists. Teach him to return favors at once. Thus is appreciation born. He must be made to help his mother, or do her a favor, when she does something for him. He will grow up then in the habit of gratitude. The spoiled child is seldom grateful. And he seldom is obliging. He needs to turn his eyes out and to learn that urge to do others a good turn. He should be trained to be accommodating, too, even without first receiving a favor.

'SAN QUENTIN' AT WALKER'S

With the current showing of "San Quentin," and the revival of the Damon Runyon story of "Apple Annie," screened under the title of "Lady for a Day," Walker's theater will present Sunday, for three days, an exceptional array of screen talent.

In "San Quentin" Pat O'Brien has the starring role, and is given excellent support by Humphrey Bogart, Barton Macane, Joseph Sawyer and Ann Sheridan.

The story of "San Quentin" is not one of those sorrowful movies about condemned men and their last hours. It is simply a swift-moving melodrama dealing with the prisoners, the lives they lead—some good, some evil, even behind the walls—and the officers who guard them.

"Lady for a Day" is like a fantastic fairy tale, yet it is real and human. Laughs and tears blend wholesomely. A revelation to picture audiences will be the performance of May Robson as "Apple Annie." Warren William as the "big-shot" gambler, Glenda Farrell as the night club hostess and Jean Parker as Miss Robson's debutante daughter, give superb support.

Rainer, Tracy to Show Here Soon

Luise Rainer and Spencer Tracy are teamed for the first time on the screen in "Big City," coming to the West Coast theater next Friday with "One Mile From Heaven," featuring a cast headed by Claire Trevor, Sally Blane, Douglas Fowley and the noted tap dancer, Bill Robinson.

The story of "Big City" deals with the fortunes of an immigrant girl who battles her way to success in America and to love via marriage to a New York taxicab driver. The part of the immigrant girl is taken by Miss Rainer. Also prominent in the cast are Charley Grapewin, Janet Beecher and Eddie Quillan.

"One Mile From Heaven" is melodramatic comedy in which Miss Trevor has the part of a newspaperwoman assigned to the court beat. Her colleagues resent her when she gets on the trail of a story they can't crack. The story involves the parenthood of a white child and a colored woman who claims the motherhood. In exposing the circumstances, convicts and blackmail artists, who know the mother is, attempt to extort money from her for the return of the baby.

New Manager

George King, above, today assumed management of the Broadway and West Coast theaters in Santa Ana, succeeding Lester J. Fountain, who was transferred to Long Beach where he will be city manager of three theaters.

'100 Men and a Girl'

Deanna Durbin, above, is shown surrounded by a galaxy of stars featured in "100 Men and a Girl," brilliant comedy with music, which is the current attraction at the West Coast theater with "Charlie Chan on Broadway," latest of the mystery thrillers.

"You Can't Beat Love"

Preston Foster and Joan Fontaine, above, as they appear in the comedy-romance "You Can't Beat Love," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State theater, along with Franchot Tone and Madge Evans in "Exclusive Story."

Baxter-Young Film Ends at Broadway

Two features of sharply contrasting nature will show at the Broadway theater tonight for the last times. They are "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," and "Reported Missing."

"Wife, Doctor and Nurse" presents a new treatment of a situation where the wife finds that her husband has a feminine helpmate in his business who has become an essential part of his life. Loretta Young has the role of the wife, Warner Baxter the outstanding New York surgeon, and Virginia Bruce his head nurse. Jane Darwell and Sidney Blackmer have leading roles.

"Reported Missing" has William Gargan and Jean Rogers in the leading roles. The picture deals with adventures of a young inventor who perfects a navigating device for giant transports and then sees plane after plane, depending upon his instrument, plunge to destruction. The young inventor unmasks an unscrupulous

Gene Autry Will Star at State

"Git Along Little Doggies," a thrilling new western musical featuring Gene Autry and Judith Allen, comes to the State theater for two days beginning Friday. On the same program are many selected short subjects, "From Bad to Worse," a Charlie Chase comedy, news of the world, colored cartoon, the adventures of "Jungle Jim," chapter 8.

sky bandit who is responsible for the wrecks.

Selected short subjects include a color cartoon, "Scary Crows," a sport subject, "Golf Magic," and World News events.

SHOW 'STELLA DALLAS' DALLAS' SUNDAY

Tense drama and emotion are the main ingredients of "Stella Dallas," the story of a mother who sacrifices her own right to happiness for the sake of her daughter, which opens tomorrow at the Broadway theater with a second attraction, "Annapolis Salute," romantic naval drama.

As the star of "Stella Dallas," Barbara Stanwyck has the most powerful role in her entire career. Co-starring with Miss Stanwyck is John Boles, with cast including Ann Shirley, Alan Hale, Barbara O'Neil, Al Shean of the famous team of Gallagher and Shean, and Tim Holt, son of Jack Holt. The film was originally a best-selling novel by Olive Higgins Prouty, later a success on the Broadway stage and as a silent picture 12 years ago, scored a sensational hit.

"Stella Dallas" is the story of a tawdry, vulgar woman who rises to magnificent heights through her sublime love for her daughter. Critics hail it as one of the best pictures of the year. How an Annapolis midshipman is unjustly arrested and refuses to protect himself for fear of involving his girl's name leads to dramatic complications in "Annapolis Salute," in which James Ellison, Marsha Hunt, Harry Carey and Van Heflin portray the leading roles. The story concerns the feud of two midshipmen, one of the son of a petty officer in the navy, the other the scion of a wealthy family. Efforts of the two to win the same girl bring many complications, but ultimately the arch-enemies become fast friends.

Short subjects include a color cartoon and World News events.

WALKER'S BILLS 'GOOD EARTH'

The most distinguished motion picture to reach the screen since the inception of talking pictures will come to Walker's theater next Wednesday, in the photoplay version of Pearl S. Buck's novel, "The Good Earth." Four years in the making, its panoramic scenes necessitated transformation of a California mountainside into a Chinese landscape with acres of rice fields, gardens and villages.

"The Good Earth" is the story of Wang Lung, a humble Chinese farmer, played by Paul Muni, who marries a slave girl. The famine destroys their crops. They go to the city and the woman, O-Lan, played by Luise Rainer, gets jewels from a looted house and they return to the farm. Her husband becomes an overlord. He takes another wife and foolishly apes the rich. On the death of the slave-girl wife, the estrangement of his beloved son, Wang Lung discovers that his life as a farmer with O-Lan was good and all that has happened since is bad.

The companion feature on the Wednesday-to-Saturday program at Walker's will be "Love in a Bungalow," featuring Kent Taylor and Nan Grey.

Nan Grey portrays a girl who is hostess in a model home. She wants to possess the place for herself. Then romance springs up between her and Kent Taylor. "The comedy is woven around the love spats between them, and the usual method that the pair use to obtain the funds for purchasing the house.

The President's flag consists of the President's seal in bronze upon a blue background, with a large white star in each corner.

Esther Vogt
Honored At Luncheon

A charming courtesy to one of their younger friends was the luncheon party given this afternoon by Mrs. E. R. Lutes and Mrs. J. W. McCormac for Miss Esther Vogt, bride-elect of Ralph Gordon. Particularly were they inspired to the pre-nuptial affair because of the long musical association of Miss Vogt with their son-in-law and son, Halstead McCormac, for the honor guest has been accompanist for many years of the Cecilia Singers, whom Mr. McCormac directs.

Lunch was served in the McCormac home, lovely with autumn-hued flowers. Eight gathered at the mahogany circular table, centered with golden pompon dahlias, and the remaining eight were at small tables.

Late in the afternoon, after games and conversation, the hostesses presented a handsome table lamp to Miss Vogt. Their guests at the affair were Mrs. F. W. Wieseman and Miss Helen Wiesemann, Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, Mrs. T. A. Winbiger, Mrs. H. I. Rasmus, Mrs. George Townsend, Mrs. S. S. Vogt, Mrs. R. Gordon, Mrs. Carl Doss, Mrs. Halstead McCormac, Miss Virginia Goodwin, Miss Katie Budd, Miss Helen Wieseman, Miss Vera Bear, and Miss Katherine Chapman.

DENNIS-CLARK
RITES READ IN BRIDE'S HOME

One of the most charming simple weddings of the season was that of Miss Helen Dennis and Cecil L. Clark, well-known Santa Ana young people, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock last evening in the home of the bride, 501 Wisteria place.

The bride, wearing a white satin formal gown with a finger-tip length veil, entered on the arm of her father, Albert Dennis. She carried a sheaf of bride's roses.

Her only attendants was Miss Ruth Dennis, sister of the bride, who wore a light blue tulle gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Frank Clark acted as best man for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Floyd Thompson, pastor of the South Santa Ana Church of Christ.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. J. Albert Dennis who played the wedding march at the piano. Miss Esther Clark sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "I Love You Truly."

Following the rites there was an informal reception at the bride's home before the young couple left for a short honeymoon in San Francisco. When they return they will make their home at 807 East Third street.

FRIENDLY EIGHT
BEGIN AUTUMN
MEETINGS

When members of the Friendly Eight Bridge club met yesterday for their first fall meeting, having been disbanded all summer, it was in the John J. Vernon home at 2020 Santiago street with Mrs. Vernon as their gracious hostess.

Following the usual custom of the club, Mrs. Vernon had prepared small tables for the serving of a dessert course as the first thing in the afternoon. Each table was centered with a bud vase containing red roses. A huge basket of red roses, and bouquets of zinnias decorated the rest of the home.

Prizes for the afternoon's play went to Mrs. John Jacob for her high score and Mrs. C. F. Leithoff for second. Mrs. Merritt Hagan won high among guests present. Plans were made for the next meeting with Mrs. George Palmer, 1145 South Birch street, on September 24.

Present for the initial meeting were Mrs. William E. Dennis, Mrs. George Palmer, Mrs. A. F. Johnson, Mrs. Frank Patrick, Mrs. C. F. Leithoff, Mrs. John Jacob, Mrs. Merritt Hagan and Mrs. Vernon.

MRS. MANNING IS HONOR GUEST AT SHOWER

Mrs. John Manning, who until her marriage last month was Miss Nellie Hershey, was honored last night at a post-nuptial miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. P. L. Etchison by the latter's daughter, Mrs. Roy Hershey of San Diego, and Mrs. B. A. Hershey of Santa Ana.

For their dessert course, the hostesses centered the table with a miniature bride and groom and a lovely wedding bell, using white flowers to carry out the motif used in all appointments.

Miss Lily Forsberg won high score prize at bridge, while Florence Moore was suitably consoled. Guests invited to the affair were the Mesdames Claude Whiteman, John Ortiz, D. H. Smith, Odessa Gilbreath, Phil Hayes, Freda Anderson, Lucille Frazier, Georgia Lewis, and the Misses Eva Dean Caskey, Lily Forsberg, Evelyn Morrison, Florence Moore, Stella Graham, Josephine Stahl, Ellen Selover, Helen Kubitz, Mildred Beck, Martha Hough, Elsie Belle Portlock of San Diego, Dorothy and Elsie Heide of Hollywood, Delphina Lopez, and Ethel Manning.

Until her marriage last Sunday Mrs. William Auf Der Heide was Miss Eugenia Bode popular among the younger set of Orange. The wedding was an impressive affair performed by her father, the Rev. A. C. Bode

Wyne-Snow Rites Are Read
Midst Autumn Setting

Warm tones of autumn made an effective and different background for the lovely formal rites performed in the Church of the Brethren at 8 o'clock last night by the Rev. Herman Landis, pastor of the church, to unite Miss Vivienne Wyne, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wyne of Santa Ana, and Charles Snow of Pasadena. The church aisle was

MRS. BALL IS SUBSTITUTE HOSTESS

Mrs. M. W. Ball was a charming hostess this week when she substituted at the last minute for Mrs. E. N. Doyle, whose illness made her unable to entertain fellow-members of the S. E. A. Woman's club.

Members gathered for dessert and bridge at the Doris Kathryn tearoom, and at the close of the afternoon found that four lovely prizes had been awarded Mrs. C. A. Sackerson, Mrs. G. W. Serr, Mrs. Otis Anderson, and Mrs. H. C. Farmer.

The club will meet Oct. 13 at the home of Mrs. E. A. B. Smith, 1150 West Eighth street, with Mrs. A. B. Mueller, Mrs. Sackerson, and Mrs. R. T. Brown as co-hostesses. The present were the Mesdames C. Oliver, L. C. Herron, P. G. Kilburn, H. C. Farmer, L. C. Faust, A. C. W. Stokes, G. W. Serr, E. A. B. Smith, C. A. Sackerson, H. H. Hilgers, H. T. Meneray, A. B. Mueller, A. T. Philcox, Olin K. Suttcliffe, Otis S. Anderson, D. H. Campbell, J. Gargan, O. M. Jordan, J. F. Stranske, K. H. Stewart, Miss Frances Jones of Amarillo, Texas, and Miss Margaret McGee of Garden Grove.

HOSTESS-TRIO
COMPLIMENTS
RECENT BRIDE

Three hostesses joined last night to compliment Mrs. Burley M. Durbin (Edwina Maag) at another lovely miscellaneous shower, when Mrs. Walter Markel, Miss Dorine Haupt, and Miss Estelle Schlessinger entertained at bridge in the home of the latter.

A bridal motif was carried out, with a complete miniature wedding party arranged below the mantel mirror, and with lovely zinnias elsewhere in the room. Gifts were showered on Mrs. Durbin at the refreshment hour, where wedding appointments also were used for decoration.

Bridge prizes went to Mrs. U. J. Engelman, Mrs. William Maag and Miss Irene Ravenkamp. Other guests present were Mrs. V. C. Cronk, Mrs. latter, Mrs. Robert Horn, Mrs. Andrew Kraemer, Mrs. Burli Wing, Mrs. William Maag, Mrs. Clyde Ashen, Mrs. Bert Hoffman, Mrs. Joseph Hamann, Mrs. Joe Haupt, Mrs. L. A. Schlesinger, Mrs. Lawrence Haupt, Mrs. Perry Davis, Miss Jerry Haupt, Miss Betty Jane Moore, Miss Bernice Borchard and Miss Lucille Howell.

HONOR STUDENT NURSES

Returning the hospitality which has been extended them several times by student nurses at the county hospital, Altrusans this week entertained the young women at a delightful dinner party and informal evening.

Dinner was served in the lovely outdoor dining room of the M. J. Armstrong place at Silverado canyon, where the tiled floor is ceilinged by the spread of a great live-oak. Later Mrs. Armstrong escorted the group through her cactus garden and her interesting display of paintings and historic heirlooms.

Guests of the club were the Mesdames Marian Whitney, Leola Watkins, Myrtle Gardner, Evelyn Neher, Phoebe Clark, Ida Mae Hartman, Beryl Talent and their sponsor, Miss May Venable; two special guests of the president, Miss Dewey Neumeyer, her sister Miss Lydia, and Miss Alice Luck of Jamestown, N. D. Altrusans present were Miss Neumeyer, Miss Grace Lansing, Miss Mary Andrews, Miss Mary Howard, Miss Irene McFall, Miss Nelle Donovan, Mrs. Thomas Prather, and Mrs. H. K. Warren.

BETHEL HONORS
CELEBRANTS

Thirteen John's Daughters whose birthday anniversaries fell in the month of June, July, August, and September, were specially honored at the Bethel's meeting this week. They included Gertrude Knox, Nancy Neer, Frances Vinton, Dorotha Miller, Janet Hollingsworth, Celina McBurney, Helen Pierce, Margot Ann Rosset, Bethel Haven, Lois Wright, Eupha Neer, Charlotte Quiggle, and Evelyn Owens.

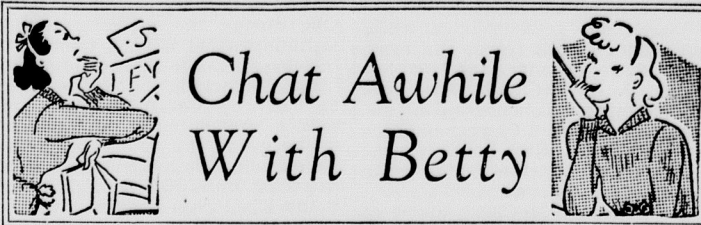

The girls made plans for the official visit of their deputy, Ada M. Lavender of Long Beach, Sept. 22. Named on the committee for this by Mary Crowe, honored queen, were Persis Davis, Marian Borchard, Gertrude Knox, and Helen Louise Waldron.

Refreshments were served by Eupha Neer, Maxine Campbell, and Madelyn McDonald.

McKINLEY
BOARD MEETS

Executive board members of McKinley P.T.A. met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hildebrand to make plans for the first general meeting, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p. m., which will be a teachers' reception.

Later the members collected their families and drove to Jack Fisher park for a picnic. Present were the Mesdames Cecil Wilson, W. F. Krael, Dale Elliott, Ray Bullock, A. Garthe, Sabar Bray, Roy Kelchner, Norman T. Franklin, and J. A. Gajeski.

Comforting thought to jaysee co-eds, starting off the new year: Lots of thrilling dates would be less cursory.

If it weren't for the depleted condition of the pursury. Adorning The Journal bulletin board this week-end is a handsome engraved (yes, I felt it) invitation, tacked upon a piece of woolen bedding. Forecasting the nuptials of our own sports editor and one Miss Miriam Powell, we finally figured it out. It's hard to believe, but it's a blanket invitation to the news-room!

Speaking of wholesale occurrences—six people made reservations for last week's Country Club Sunday night supper—and 68 turned up, expecting to be fed. They were—but it took a keen eye and a steady hand to slice the 'sandy delicacy' enough. So please, says Frances Fernandez, sort of mutter about it if you know ahead of time you're going to be there. Es Emison has taken over the management of directors' wives activities in place of Mrs. A. G. Flagg—who was banished summarily from social functions on account of a dangerously low blood pressure. After two weeks of nothing but eating and sleeping, and nary a phone call, even, the latter is much more her former self. Incidentally, her Day Nursery chairmanship has been taken over by Mrs. Tom Traxwick, who promises to be equally competent and efficient.

Passing comment: If night-hawk golfers didn't toss so many down the hatches they'd be less prone to lose their week-end matches...

Little Margaret Sawyer is all involved in the whirl of rush week at U. C. L. A. this week. And she's already been made one of the stunt committee for football games. Translated it means that she passes out those giddy-hued cards beforehand, and assembles them after each of the games. Her trim and petite mother, Mrs. Frank Sawyer, is dissipating her summer hours by playing working girl at the family car-dispensary.

Famous visitor of the week: Agnes Rinehart, Metropolitan opera star who was headlined at the Bowl last Friday night, trekked down to Santa Ana in slacks and bandanna the next day to relax for the week-end with her sister, the charming Mrs. Rinehart of the local telephone company.

With reference to collegiennes—Charlotte Mock will be back at S. C. this year. Her younger sister, Carla, who can certainly tell those daughters they are, can't you? had her tenth birthday anniversary this week—and was our holiday girl of the week—born on Admission Day, which was very fitting.

Clever ideas for decorations: Mrs. Roy Beall rigged up a beautiful wedding bell to center the table at a pre-nuptial shower, and made its clapper of a wishbone, a dove, a horseshoe, and a wedding ring! At the same party the honoree, young Jane McBurney, received an entire chest of silver from a doting aunt, Mrs. A. J. Smiley—and an intricately fashioned quilt from another d. a.—Mrs. D. T. McBurney!

Another idea for a centerpiece—pile a number of flowers and lots of ferns in one of these fancy rings, and in the center of the ring put a little bowl of water with lumps of dry ice in it. A sort of ethereal mist will bubble and evanesce in and around the posies, and the result is really lovely.

Remarkable feat of the week: Mrs. M. W. Ball whipping home from a two-weeks' vacation at the beach, and putting on a fancy bridge party for thirty-some guests at 24 hours notice.

It could be taken two ways—

Emil Wagner telling the Lions' club boys all about his new "plant!"

And of all the travelling! Dr. Margaret Baker and her brood are just home from a week in San Francisco—Dr. Willis was with them part of the time—and they took in a show a day, with loud acclaim for "Room Service," which, it is rumored, may come to Santa Ana next month (watch the headlines). Young Harvey Baker leaves tomorrow for Cornell.

Mrs. Paul Dinsmore has been here four whole months without going back to her native Piedmont—so she leaves in the morning for a little reunion. She's positive she's going to be homesick for Santa Ana, though. Says she never saw such a town in her life for things going on all the time!

The Arthur Mays embarked early today on their sabbatical leave from the chickies, Douglas and Jean. Without a care in the world, and in the company of those good-fun people, the George Watsons, they're going to cover miles of national parks, Oregon, Washington, Canada, and what have you.

The Carl Klatts are trekking around the east coast, leaving Jeanette to pack her own trunk for Stanford next week. The John Cannons and the Dr. Sherrards had a gay few days in San Francisco early in the week, I hear, and the W. E. Clements, accompanied by Mrs. Estelle McArthur, are off to visit their daughter Lois Clements Watson, now living in Indianapolis. They won't be home 'til December, on account of proceeding to Washington, Florida, and Mexico...

Scoop of the week (we hope)—One large diamond blazing on the fourth digit of Virginia Ereen's left hand, will, it is rumored, be supplemented by a plainer hoop this very week-end. And one Frank Summers is alleged to be the lucky man.

Burst in upon Betty and Lee Finley virtually the moment they'd returned from their summer at Balboa. They'd put off returning to Greenleaf street until the very last moment before young Heinzie had to return to school—but as they said—"we finley had to come to it!"

I'll be polishing up the silver voice over the week-end for lots of good chitter-chatter Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30 over KVOE, and I'll see you next Saturday!

Addendum: If somebody'd grown up just a little bit sooner...

She might have turned out to be a better columnist.

BETTY GUILD.

MANY ATTEND
COUNTRY CLUB

Nine tables of bridge were in play at the Country club last night when Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Anderson acted as hosts and hostesses at the monthly evening card party.

Great jars of zinnias decorated the lounge, and Mrs. Bob Fernandez had arranged bouquets of pink and white asters and white tapers on the table where supper was served late in the evening.

Prize-winners were Mrs. Clarence Church and Mrs. Fay Hochstrasser, high for ladies; J. R. Stephens and Dean Campbell, high for men, and Dr. L. N. Sherrard and Mrs. Hugh Lowe, lucky winners.

TWO-IN-ONE CLASS The First Methodist Episcopal church will hold their monthly meeting in the social hall of the church at 8 p. m. Monday, instead of Tuesday evening as originally scheduled.

Bride of Last Saturday

At late afternoon rites today Miss Jeanne Neil became the bride of John Hadley Pryor, jr. She is the daughter of the S. H. Neils of Sunset Beach. They will make their home in Oregon

Bride Carries Out Family
Tradition in Wedding

In the same picturesque little Episcopal church at Covina in which her parents were married twenty-two years ago, Miss Jeanne Neil became the bride of John Hadley Pryor, jr., late this afternoon. Both are children of prominent county people, the bride being the daughter of the S. Hubert Neils of Sunset Beach, and the groom the son of the J. H. Pryors of Westminster.

The sentimental associations of the church were enhanced by its taper-lined aisle, with pastel blossoms knotted by tulle bows to the glimmering candles. Masses of white flowers and greenery banked the altar, making a lovely background for the nuptials performed by the Rev. Bertrand House.

Soft organ strains, played by Alex Anderson who had officiated at the Neils' wedding in 1915, accompanied the pacing of the quaintly-frocked bride, who wore demure white moire with a shower bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia. She entered on the arm of her father.

Her sister, Miss Marian Neil, was maid of honor, gownned in old-fashioned style pink net with a wreath of rosebuds in her hair. Miss Pauline Joyce Maguire of Long Beach, in powder blue tulle and a face veil. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Her only attendants were her two sisters, Miss Evelyn Hilgenfeld, and Miss Frances Hilgenfeld, wearing blue and duobonnet velvet. Little Lela Joyce Maguire of Long Beach, in powder blue tulle, ankle-length frock trimmed in pink, was flower girl.

Attending the bridegroom were Melvin Hilgenfeld, as best man, Jerome Brown of Glendora, Orvan Murray of San Diego, Everett Graneros of Anaheim, and Earle Flaunt of San Pedro as ushers. Following the ceremony the bridal couple marched out to the tune of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

A reception was held in the social hall of the church, which was decorated with baskets of flowers and potted ferns. The bride's cake, made by the bride's sister, Frances Hilgenfeld, had central place on the long table at one end of the room. In the receiving line were members of the bridal party and the bride's mother, who wore a dress of green faille crepe with gold metal trim and a corsage of gardenias.

Changing her wedding gown for a going away costume of tulle faille crepe made in bolere style with a London tan sport coat and dark brown accessories, the bride left with her husband for a short honeymoon trip.

After Sept. 20, Mr. and Mrs. Nunn will make their home at the Brown School for Girls in Glendora, where Mrs. Nunn will be dietitian. Mr. Nunn is manager of the western office of the John Brown Schools corporation in Los Angeles. The bride is an alumna of the Fullerton Union High school and of Mills college.

For the past few years she has been dietitian at the Orthopaedic hospital in Los Angeles. Mrs. Nunn is an alumna of the John Brown Schools of Sileam Springs, Ark.

The latter has just returned from spending two weeks at Berkeley, where she took her daughter Helena, for her junior year at the university. Miss Helena is pledged Phi Mu, sorority of her sister Edith, Mrs. W. D. Gibbins.

ESTHER COPPOCK
WEDS AT YUMA

Mrs. Julia Coppock, Orange, announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Esther Coppock, to Marvin Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richards, also of Orange, at a Lutheran church in Yuma, Ariz., Wednesday. The Rev. Meyer, pastor of the church, read the rites.

The bride wore a pink ensemble with white accessories, and was unaccompanied. The couple will live in Placerville.

DUO START FOR NORTHERN TRIP

Miss Helen O'Brien and Miss Betty Niedergall left Thursday afternoon by motor for a two-week vacation trip in the North, with northern Oregon as their destination.

They will stop at Palo Alto to visit friends, and they will make a longer stop in San Francisco as the guests of Miss Niedergall's sister, Mrs. Bernard Sharpley.

Thirty-Fifth
Anniversary
Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Swales Are Dinner Hosts to Eighty

More than four score friends last evening were privileged to honor Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Swales when, on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary, the prominent Santa Ana couple entertained at a delightful dinner party at the Newport Harbor Yacht club.

Not a strictly formal affair, nevertheless many beautiful gowns were noted as guests were received by the charming hostess, herself clad in a dinner gown of amethyst velvet, enhanced by two gorgeous orchids sent her by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall.

The beautiful dining-room, with casement windows thrown wide open so that the beauties of water and starlit sky were part of the dining scene, was literally a bower of exquisite flowers. Masses of vivid zinnias sent by the B. J. McMullens, colorful asters sent by the O. H. Egges, and many beautiful baskets sent by Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Dunning, Mrs. Marguerite Borgmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shisby, and Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Kistinger, —all were lovely tokens of friendship and esteem felt for Mr. and Mrs. Swales.

Most outstanding in the room, however, were the long tables which were decorated in the simple ivory and green stones that were used at the Swales' wedding. Bowls of fluffy white asters, interspersed with delicate fern and tapers, centered each of the seven tables, and were flanked by tall white candelabra.

Placecards were quaint little reproductions of an amusing snapshot of Mr. and Mrs. Swales, taken at their pre-nuptial party given for them at Lake St. Clair, showing the groom-to-be down on his knees before the blushing bride.

The host and hostess had graciously arranged to have assistant hosts at each of six tables seating a dozen guests, and they themselves presided at a center table of 14.

Assisting them in this cordial gesture were Mrs. George Briggs and Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hadden, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rutan. Mrs. Howard Timmons assisted in receiving and checking the guest list.

The delightful evening was concluded with bridge, for which 20 lovely prizes were awarded, but before the tables were cleared away came an intriguing surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Swales. Their close friends, also prominent in Yacht Club activities, the Shirley Mesdames, the William Warringtons, and the William J. Bartholmaes, jr., had arranged a radio broadcast to the clubhouse from the Mesdames' new yacht, now at Catalina for the regatta. The radio telephone conversation that connected the Swales was a fitting climax to the happy anniversary celebration.

NEEDLEWORK
CLUB MEETS IN FORGY HOME

Mrs. H. J. Forgy, 2107 North Broadway street, was hostess to members of her needlework club this week in the cool gardens of her home where large trees provided a welcome shade from the autumn sun.

Following an afternoon of chatting and sewing, the hostess served a light refreshment course to her guests.

Because of the absence of four club members, Mrs. Charles Druitt, Mrs. E. W. Truesdell, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, and Mrs. Rowland Yeagle substituted. Others present were Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. L. A. West, Mrs. Oliver Halsell, Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. F. W. Wieseman, Mrs. Alex Brownridge, and Mrs. Helen Hill.

POST-NUPTIAL AFFAIR HONORS RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. J. Morris Hayter of Long Beach, who was formerly Miss Frances Roper of Santa Ana, was the guest of honor Thursday evening when Mrs. John H. Cress entertained at a post nuptial shower in her home, 826 North Garnsey street.

Guests provided the entertainment for the evening, with Mrs. Frank Bath taking high prize, Mrs. Grover Bacon second. Gifts for her new home at 775 Ximeno street, Long Beach, were presented to the recent bride on a large table centered with a bowl of zinnias. The bride's gift was carried out in napkins and tallies, and a dessert course was served to the assembled guests late in the evening. Mrs. Cress was assisted in serving by Mr. Grover Bacon and Herbert Painter.

Guests bidden to the affair to compliment the new Mrs. Hayter were the Misses Minnie Bauer, Frances Murphy, Alice Boyd, Josephine Morgan, Lucille Rios, Ercy Garver, Marion Johnson, Maureen Dalton, Norma Wilson, Agnes McKinstry, Erlene Farmer, Louise Croxon, of Long Beach.

Others were Mrs. Clarence Spencer, Mrs. George Wheeler, Mrs. Charles Cornblom of Long Beach, Mrs. Clark Barr of Fullerton, Mrs. Frank Bath of Anaheim, Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. Herbert Painter of Orange, and Mrs. Grover Bacon, sister of the bride.

FORMAL RITES UNITE LOCAL COUPLE

Formal wedding rites in the Bible church, Buena Park, at 6 o'clock last night united Miss Doris McCloud of Buena Park and Donald Engelhardt of Orange. The Rev. F. G. Huling, pastor of the Bible church, officiated.

Beautifully gowned in a white satin floor-length frock, the bride was given in marriage by her father, J. H. McCloud. She wore a hem-length veil, white satin sandals, and carried a 90-year-old lace handkerchief. Her bouquet was made of white rose buds, white lilies and bouvardia.

Miss Eleanor McCloud, sister of the bride, attended her as maid of honor, wearing a peach satin frock with a peagreen hat and a sheaf of blue delphinium. Other attendants were Miss Edith Newman in blue satin with a blue hat, Miss Hazel Durham in blue taffeta and a matching hat. Both carried mixed bouquets.

Preceding the bridal party down the aisle was tiny Jacquelyn McDonald, dressed in yellow silk, and marching to the soft organ music played by Norma Lou McDowell. Vocal selections were offered by Mrs. F. G. Huling.

Ernest Engelhardt attended the groom as best man, while Eugene McCloud and Charles Tindill acted as ushers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCloud, 534 Marshall street, Buena Park, and a graduate of Fullerton high school. The bridegroom attended Orange high school and Santa Ana junior college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Engelhardt, 553 Olive street, Orange.

SERMON TOPICS ANNOUNCED

"Israel's Future" is the topic of the sermon to be delivered by the Reverend Frank E. Lindgren, pastor of the Calvary church of Santa Ana, during the morning service beginning at 11 o'clock tomorrow. The evening service, starting at 7:30, will include an "Echo Meeting" with the Catalina Bible conference held recently, and will be in charge of the young people of the church. Both services will be broadcast by KVOE by direct wire to the Ebell club auditorium.

NEW CONTEST Tim and Irene's sponsor is to institute a contest for the listeners of the weekly "Fun In Swingtime" revue, presented on KVOE and the coast-to-coast Mutual network, starting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

CONTRACT RENEWED Mutual has renewed its contract with Ray Perkins, comedian and Master of Ceremonies featured on the "Hi There, Audience" variety show Sundays from 4:30 to 5:00 p. m. on KVOE. Starting with a free hand and many experiments in the way of dialogue, skits, and arrangements, Ray has built the show into a top-flight feature on the Sunday night air-waves.

ROMEO, JULIET Faced with the problem of choosing between Hettie and 200-pound Sally for the starring role in their production of "Romeo and Juliet," the "Brothers and Sisters of the Rising Sun" reach a solution in a surprising manner during the broadcast of "Louisiana Hayride," by KVOE and the Mutual network, this evening from 5:00 to 5:30.

COWBOY DITTIES Out of numerous requests, the Harmony Boys, Cliff and Ellis, have selected five of the most popular cowboy and "hillbilly" songs for their program on KVOE Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Their "cream of the crop" songs will include "Utah Trail," "There's a Home in Wyoming," "When the Bloom is on the Sage," "Mississippi River Blues" and "They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree."

Religious Homes—A Nation's Needs

In our study of the Children of Israel becoming a nation, we have been reviewing various phases regarding national life. Today we look at the need of religious homes in a nation, hoping to apply truths and lessons to ourselves from the Old Book's record of the Israelites. Our lesson for this week is found in Deuteronomy 6:1-9 11:18-25.

In God's arrangement for human life and society upon the earth He first set up the family, which called for a home. "And the Lord God said, It is not good that man should be alone; I will make him an help meet unto him. And so made He a woman and brought her unto the man." Then He gave the command, "Therefore shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh." The home was instituted of God as the first unit of society and anything that interferes with its welfare strikes at the foundations of all society. After the home He instituted the government and the nations, but the nation is built upon the home, and without the home the nation cannot long exist. When the foundations are destroyed the superstructure cannot stand. The nation must have homes, and the conditions of those homes has much to do with the character and success of the homes.

The home that is according to Divine arrangement, the home to be what it should be, must be religious. A home is more than a house. Many a mansion is not a home—only a house, while many a hovel is a real home. True the home has its physical phases and charms, but a home based only on the physical is really not a home at all for it lacks the essential element of a home. We do not realize the value of religion as we should.

The future of the nation depends upon the youth of today. Tomorrow these youths will be the persons in power, a fact which we all too often fail to realize. The training they are getting today is shaping the conditions of tomorrow. The home has much to do with this training and we make a mistake when we expect a school system to take the place of home training. Our nation today needs homes where youth will have a religious background and effective religious training. Irreligious young people are not a good national prospect; we cannot look to these for an ideal future citizenry. The need for the religious home is very great.

The religion of the Israelites was a love religion to their God, and here is a great glory of our religion—it is a religion of love. There is no slavish fear except where there is wilful disobedience, and then it is a fear of just judgment. No other religion can be favorably compared with this religion. I wonder if we appreciate it as we should?

In this chapter II of Deuteronomy, verses 18, 19, we read a message for leaders, teachers and parents. Parents are the first teachers and there is no great influence among men than that of the parent when the home is what it should be. In order to be a successful teacher and leader of men, in order that the adult influence over youth may be what it should be, "therefore shall ye lay up these words in your heart." This is more than reading the Bible. It is studying it and memorizing it; it is hiding it deeper than the mind; it must go to the heart. An intellectual grasp of the Word is necessary, but it must go beyond that if it is to reach its purpose. It must reach the heart where it will affect and change and mold the life. There are those who hold the poor book of nature, memorizing the Bible even from an intellectual standpoint. Yet the greatest stories of love, tragedy, romance, science, etc., are all contained therein. And have you ever noticed how nearly all great statesmen refer often to the Bible. It is a true guide book for man. What a shame man cannot follow it, and neglects it in his everyday home life.

What has become of the old fashioned home, with the old motto on the wall which said:

Christ is the Head of this house; the Unseen Guest at every meal; the Silent Listener to every conversation. American was founded on homes such as these. Would it not be well to return to this standard?

There is no greater obligation upon the adult than to teach youth and this responsibility is no greater at any point than that of Christian teaching. God does not make special revelations to each generation. He revealed his truths to Moses, Isaiah, Paul and others. We have His word recorded in the Old Book, but it must be taught over and over again to each succeeding generation. There is no more positive or binding command than, "Ye shall teach your children," which is binding on parents and adults. It has been said that the chief business of maturity is the care and training of immaturity. It is especially binding upon parents. God have mercy upon the parents that cannot, and upon those who can and do not, teach the Bible to their children. The church school is a splendid institution but it is in no sense a substitute for the home and parents cannot shift their responsibility to this school.

In verses 21-25 we read that the result of complying with the above command will be the favor of the Lord. It will mean a prolonged life, for the things taught from the Word are conducive to health and strength—facts attested to by modern science. It will mean the prosperity of the nation. "If ye shall diligently keep all these commandments which I command you to do, then will the Lord drive out all these nations from before you and ye shall possess greater nations and mightier than yourselves. This message in particular to Israel but applicable to us, they will be victorious wherever they go, shall conquer and come into possession of all the promised land. And "God shall lay the fear of you and the dread of you" upon all the land you are to conquer. The promised land was not to be theirs alone as a result of their effort, but as a result of their loyalty and obedience to these commands. It is not enough that one shall know the commandments. Knowledge brings only responsibility. It is when there is obedience that blessing results.

The successful nation must have an intelligent, loyal and righteous citizenry, which calls for good heredity and education. Character is also essential, which must largely be made during childhood and youth—in the home. What any community needs is good homes, which may be so behind the scenes as to be unnoticed, yet its influence is there. Just as a nation of Godly homes is a bright picture, so is one of the darkest pictures in our present civilization, and one of the greatest threats to the future, is the present carelessness and neglect and Godlessness of the home. Already we are beginning to pay dearly for this and tomorrow there will be more to pay.

What a shame that as children grow up and we all get busy, we should the regularity of the home to be broken and the family altar to be dropped. I still like to hear "the blessing" said at mealtime. How many homes there are that are supposed to be Christian that you can enter and remain for some time without discovering the fact. G. Campbell Morgan tells how his father was a rather set Puritan, which position he did not appreciate as a youth, but later thanked God for his influence. He says, "He came into my house soon after I was married and looked around. We showed him into every room, and then, in a rough way, he said to me, 'It is very nice, but nobody will know walking through here whether you belong to God or the devil.' I went through and looked at the rooms again, and I thought, he is quite right; and we made up our minds straightaway that the house should be so that our house that had not some message." The entire atmosphere of the home should be unquestionably Christian, and this is the atmosphere that each generation should be brought up in. This is God's standard for the home, and the kind of homes our nation needs.

Invent War Gas to Make
Troops Fall in Swoon

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Making warfare less barbarous with acetyl choline, a drug capable of causing instant fainting of enemy soldiers, was suggested as a possibility at the American Chemical society here today.

Acetyl choline is one of the most active chemicals known. The most minute quantity, when injected into the blood stream, causes remarkable lowering of blood pressure. Fainting is the result.

But recovery is rapid, unless measures are taken to delay it, and there are afterward no ill effects. Where used in combat, acetyl choline would stop virtually all deaths, serious wounds and most of the pain.

Yet it would be an effective weapon for it appears possible to use it so that enemies would drop inert, unconscious and open to capture in large number.

The circumstances under which it might be used for a more humane type of war were explained in an interview today by Dr. R. R. Renshaw, of New York university.

It cannot be used as a gas, but because of its potency it can be fired in special type artillery shells.

These would be shells of a porous, tile-like material, in which the acetyl choline would be impregnated. They would be "splinter shells," designed to burst, on explosion, into small splinters. Even a small scratch by such a splinter, Dr. Renshaw said, would be sufficient to cause almost instant fainting.

Church to Have
65th Anniversary

The 65th anniversary of the founding of the Westminster Presbyterian church will be commemorated Sunday with the Rev. George N. Greer, pastor, in charge. The church, the third Presbyterian church to be formed in Southern California, was organized in 1872 by 16 members of the pioneer colony.

Services were held in a room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, first settlers. The room is still a part of the home of Harry B. Anderson, only son of the pioneers.

The first church was built in 1873 and served until 1915, when it was destroyed by fire and the present building was erected.

Of a majority of the original 16 members are scattered throughout the state but it is believed that many of them will be present Sunday morning.

Of the ministers who have served as pastors, four are living. They are the Rev. J. W. Miller, Dr. John G. Kline of Long Beach, Ray Weld, Hemet and George N. Greer.

Fall Program of
'Y' Started

Y. M. C. A. boys' club work got its fall kick-off in a leaders' meeting Thursday night at the Y.

The Rev. A. E. Kelly spoke on the work of organized boys' groups in the churches, and Edward Budd discussed the "neighborhood groups" which are being featured. Others present were Dale Winterbottom, Stanley Slaback, the Rev. H. B. Landis, Bruce Ragan, the Rev. Calvin Duncan, the Rev. Samuel Edgar, Leon Lauderbach, Paul Alberts, the Rev. E. E. Johnson, John Henderson, Howard Rapp, Fred Sanford, Arthur Beard, Robert Korff and A. B. Chase.

The new plan for membership in the Y boys' department was adopted by the committee on boys' work. All boys who are members of the boys' department, and all members of the department will be assigned to organized groups.

This plan carries out the free membership for boys which has been in effect for some years at the local "Y." Each boy pays only a small registration fee in his club.

He's Everybody's President

A lot of people are still damning President Roosevelt for being "pro-labor," blaming him because he didn't stop the C. I. O.'s sit-downs and strikes in the auto and steel industries.

Yet John L. Lewis utters some very harsh words against the President for not being "pro-labor," professing to see something almost treasonable to labor in Mr. Roosevelt's now famous remark that a great many Americans, annoyed by the capital-labor strife, were disposed to say, "A plague on both your houses."

Industrial buyers of cotton criticize the President for his loans and subsidies to cotton growers. But from the cotton belt comes complaint that the President is niggardly toward the planters.

All of this somehow calls to mind an article written by William Philip Simms, while on his recent tour of Europe. From Prague, Mr. Simms gave this description of the technique employed by President Benes in holding together the antagonistic groups in the republic of Czechoslovakia:

"After his election to the presidency, he held a series of conferences. First he called in the peasants. To them he said:

"I want to thank you for voting for me. You are my friends. But if you expect me to be president only of the peasants, I will resign."

"He then called in the workers. He told them the same thing. They had voted for him, and he appreciated it. But if they did so in the belief he would be exclusively their man, he would refuse to serve."

"Next he made his position clear to the business world. They must not expect him to be a wire-puller for big business. He would have to be everybody's president, the president of Czechoslovakia with all its social, economic and racial complexities, or he would not be president at all."

"That is the way President Benes looks at his job."

Judging by the criticisms that are coming at him from all sides, President Roosevelt's idea concerning his job does not differ from that expressed by President Benes.

American styles are invading Russia. So, with Russian theories invading America, we now have reciprocity.

J. F. Burke Attacks Communism

One of the most interesting attacks upon the Communist form of government which we have heard in years comes from the lips of a prominent Orange county man and former newspaper editor, J. Frank Burke.

Mr. Burke's criticism of the Soviet regime is especially interesting for two reasons. First, because as he himself says, he formerly was somewhat prejudiced in its favor. And secondly, because he has just returned from Russian where he had many first-hand experiences with Communism and its effect upon the common people.

"I never want to see Communism in the United States," he declares. "I reached Moscow just after the summary military executions of a group who assertedly opposed the government."

"The atmosphere was so charged with repression and fear that it seemed thick enough to cut with a knife. People everywhere seemed to dread the secret and fatal hand of their rulers."

As Mr. Burke observed these frightened, oppressed people, he thought, according to his own account of the trip:

"How thankful I am that the liberty to speak freely about the government still exists in my own land. The Soviet government has improved the economic situation of Russia in many ways, but this cannot compensate for the loss of civil liberties and the evidences of oppression."

Mr. Burke was not content to take the usual sight-seeing tour through carefully manicured districts while in the land of Communism.

He went out on the by-paths and learned the true conditions. It is these that he tells about.

We hope that he finds time to give a series of public talks upon his impressions of the tyrannical Red government.

It would be a distinct service to many citizens who have been badly misled concerning Communism.

Maybe China and Japan are like the street fighters we read about—they aren't fighting, they're just trying to separate each other.

Collects For Lost Arms

Not long ago the board of trustees of the San Francisco opera house came into some public notice through turning down an application for a lecture engagement by Thomas Mann on the ground that the board did not know who Mr. Mann was.

A few hours later the board's collective cheeks burned when it developed that Thomas Mann was a Nobel prize winner in literature and regarded by many as the No. 1 man of letters of his day.

But now it would seem that the opera group's ignorance had at least one good precedent in the history of San Francisco. Isobel Field, stepdaughter of Robert Louis Stevenson, in her book, "This Life I've Loved," writing of her girlhood in the late '70's and early '80's, recalls:

"In those days the School of Design was on Pine street over the California Market. The stalls from the street led directly into a long, wide room with high ceiling. Eight or ten large plaster casts of statues were arranged at intervals, replicas of the Greek ones in the Louvre."

"These statues, I learned later, were a present to San Francisco from the city of Paris, and it was said that when they were unpacked and the Venus de Milo was found to be without arms the Chamber of Commerce sued the Wells Fargo Express company for the loss and was awarded damages!"

FAIR Enough

Pegler Was Good Office Boy, Too

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK.—John Scinaldi, the chief office boy of the United Press Bureau in New York, takes exception to your correspondent's recent reminiscence story of the late Red Manning, who was the one and only office boy of the same bureau up to the day that he was dismissed for an accumulation of small reasons early in 1932.

Red was followed by a succession of exasperating failures, including loafers and malingerers, as well as some earnest little incompetents, and things were in a bad fix on the night that Woodrow Wilson was elected the first time. Red walked in uninvited, tossed out two kids who were attempting to handle his old job, and hired himself back, to remain until he died, a couple of years later.

Mr. Scinaldi says that Red Manning (may he rest in peace) may have been a good office boy, but that he is one who can do and has done the work of three office boys. Mr. Scinaldi, whose parents were born in Sicily, rather pointedly states that he once did the work of two Irish kids, who reported sick, as well as his own. Red Manning was Irish, and Mr. Scinaldi has been privately informed that the boys he replaced were Italians. He says that on the day he relieved the two Irish boys and carried on his work, too, he made more than 600 carbon-and-filmy books for the telegraph operators and writers, besides running errands and handling copy.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

"Some day," he says, "I would like to show you how I can make books."

All right! Your correspondent will drop around some day, but John Scinaldi has challenged an expert. Your correspondent doesn't want to boast, but he was making books in the HX, or Chicago, bureau of the U. P. about the same time that Red Manning was working in New York. He also had other duties.

He was writing a condensed version of the day's news on the old-fashioned, invisible Remington sausage grinder and spending a dozen or more periods of from five to 20 minutes a day in a telephone booth, phoning this intelligence to shorthand receivers at small dairies in Elgin, Galesburg, La Porte and so forth. But he was always being called on to pinch-hit the office boy because the office boy was always enjoying poor health or his grandmother was at death's door or his father had got drunk and spent all the money in the house, not leaving him a cent.

The old man, Mr. Conkle, frequently changed office boys, but they were all alike, if not worse. Even if they did come to work, they would take an hour to chase an office boy for one of the operators and you could find them riding up and down in the freight elevator just for the travel.

GOT BOTH JOBS

So one day your correspondent asked the old man for both jobs and the pay thereof, and the old man said all right. Your correspondent then began storing away carbon and filmy books for emergencies. He soon used up all the carbon and filmy in stock, and the old man got another supply from New York, which quickly vanished, too. There were books hidden everywhere, and finally the man complained because the carbon was drying out from exposure to the air.

John Scinaldi may be pretty good, but he is challenging the only newspaper office in all history who made too many books. Your correspondent is not totally Irish, but he is entirely non-Sicilian, and he doesn't believe that any race has a special gift for office boys. It is all a matter of individual knack and know-how.

A long time ago the Chicago American had a very good boy named Louie Cohen, a sawed, homeless Jewish kid from New York who sometimes went out with the photographers to run plates back to the office. Louie once helped to scoop the town on some important pictures by a quick job of thinking. The photographer was an ulster Irishman named Jack Palmer, who loved to fight and had his whole side blown out by a bullet while serving with the Canadian black watch in France, but came back to take news pictures for several years. He was one photographer who could not be assaulted easily.

This day Jack got into pictures and a crowd went after him, whereat Louie Cohen grabbed the plates, let himself into a police booth with his own key, and phoned a riot call to the station house, while Palmer stood outside being cut up with his camera. Presently the cops arrived in their blue tailyho and rescued Jack, Louie and the plates, and your correspondent would like to add that Louie got a bonus and a dollar raise, but he will just stand on the facts.

WASHINGTON.— Intervention in Mexico seemed further off to-day. Rebel raiding along the border is expected to be ended by Mexican Federalists, who are now crossing American territory in order to reach their stronghold.

LOS ANGELES.—Seven thousand old veterans gathered for the annual encampment of the Grand Army, paraded the streets today. Headed by a drum corps of war musicians, the old soldiers held their places for almost two miles along the line of march, and none dropped out.

WASHINGTON.— The existing freight rate of $7 a hundred pounds on automobiles, less than carloads, from New York and other eastern points to Pacific coast terminals, was attacked today before the interstate commerce commission.

Fire Chief Clement last evening appeared before the Board of Trustees at Orange with a report to the effect that inadequate protection against fire is at present provided in hotels and schools in that city, as neither classes of buildings are provided with fire escapes, and that soldiers and sailors have not properly marked exits, so that in case of fire in these buildings the danger of loss of life is considerable.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.— British and American conversations regarding the Far East have gone much further than has leaked out in the newspapers. Representatives of the two governments actually have discussed what course they would follow in case of an "incident" tending to drag one or both countries into the melee.

Details regarding these conversations have been ascertained by one of the Merry-Go-Rounders, recently in London, and are corroborated here.

Judging by these conversations, the Roosevelt administration is much more anxious to play a decisive role in blocking Japan than appears on the surface.

Probably it will be denied, but United States officials have emphasized to the British that if Japan conquers China she may build up an empire with which no white nation can reckon.

British officials have concurred in this, and have gone one step farther by pointing out that such an empire would mean complete ruin to the United States cotton industry. Given a stable government, China could produce tremendous quantities of cotton, and Japanese mills could sell the finished product at a price that would wipe out the British textile industry.

STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACIES

United States officials also have taken the view that the democracies of the world—the United States, Great Britain and France—need to take a firmer stand. To date, they have yielded before every savoring move by European dictators.

A stiff and united front against Japan, it has been emphasized, would show that democracy was no weak institution and would be a healthy example for Mussolini and Hitler. Thus an object lesson in the Far East would help to maintain peace in Europe.

The British, while applauding these ideas, are very much inclined to say: "After you, Alphonse!"

They claim that their fleet is tied up in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, that their interests are nearer home. In effect, they want the United States to show strength against Japan while they applaud from the sidelines.

BRITISH PUNISHMENT

Actually, the British have taken far more punishment from the Japanese than the public realizes. Six of their ships already have been searched, and two of them (Yangtze river boats) seized as prizes of war.

Nothing has been published about this, because the British have not announced it to the press. However, they have reported it to American officials, who have taken the stand that if the British did not want it known it was not the business of the United States to announce it.

The British also have been under tremendous pressure from Australia, New Zealand, and even Canada, to take a stronger stand against Japan.

So far, however, they have tried to push the United States forward.

CORDELL HULL'S VIEW

United States officials appear more willing to take the Japanese bait in their teeth than the general public would suspect. Cordell Hull, fundamentally a man of peace, believes that a firm stand should be taken against Japan, not necessarily for war but against her aggression. He even goes so far as to believe that if it is necessary to fight Japan some day, it may be better now than later.

American naval strategists are completely confident — provided they have some degree of British support. They are urging the British to send at least six battleships from the Atlantic and Mediterranean to Far Eastern waters.

ECONOMIC BLOCKADE

American and British naval strategists have worked out an economic blockade of Japan they believe would subdue her in short order. It is based upon the fact that Japan is a group of islands and, therefore, must import everything by sea. Italy, on the other hand, had land neighbors, so the League of Nations had no means of enforcing its boycott.

But by stationing fleets at the Singapore Naval Base and at the Panama Canal, British and American naval strategists believe they could blockade Japan effectively. Most of her supplies must be imported by these two routes. The only other source is China, now her enemy.

This blockade is proposed as punitive action against an aggressive nation, without going to war with Japan. But of course, blockades usually lead to war.

SHANGHAI STRATEGY

One thing to be remembered about the Shanghai battle is that General Chiang Kai-shek wants to fight there. It is his one great hope of winning the war—namely, that of drawing the western powers into the mess.

Strategically, Shanghai is not important. It would be much better for Chiang to withdraw to the lakes and marshes which form a belt north toward Peking. But he is throwing the cream of his army into Shanghai. Reason is that although he has man power, Chiang lacks supplies. For every machine gun he loses, he must import another from abroad. Therefore, his aim is to hold out until the Japanese affront the western powers sufficiently to bring them in.

JAPANESE RIVALRY

From the Japanese viewpoint also, it would be better not to fight at Shanghai. The approach is difficult and not important strategically, once captured.

However, here is where human nature enters. The Japanese, shamed by their poor showing during the Shanghai attack in 1932, resolved to redeem itself. Its officers initiated the Shanghai battle. Now Japan cannot withdraw without tremendous loss of face.

Chiefly to be feared in the Chinese war is the Japanese seizure of an American merchant vessel. United States naval commanders will convey all these vessels, have instruction to permit no seizures.

The Japanese government is anxious to avoid any such incident. However, Japanese naval commanders, while at sea, are virtually a law unto themselves. They can be headstrong and flighty.

When the arms-laden vessels now heading toward Shanghai, actually reach Chinese waters, anything may happen.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent, fair discussion of problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, the Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

MASSACRE SONS
To the Editor: We do not want war. The selfish interests of a few would massacre thousands of our sons.
MAUDE AND FRANK WILLSEY

NO FOREIGN WAR
To the Editor: We should all be resolutely opposed to war. Protect our own country, of course, against invasion of enemies. But to go across the sea with a chip on our shoulder, likely might be taken as a dare to an enemy, and result in war.
D. M. BROWNING,
361 Aster street, Laguna Beach.

WHY SHOULD HE GO
To the Editor: I did not ask any of our American citizens to go to China, neither did I ask anyone to use money there while people went hungry here for want of it, and if anyone knows of any good reason why I should go there and fight to protect either of them, just let me know, for I know of none.
C. H. JOHNSON,
2014 Cedar street, Santa Ana.

WHITE LINES WORN OFF
To the Editor: We read and hear a lot about careful and safe driving, but our county doesn't seem to try very hard to keep the white stripes painted on our highways, which go a long way toward safe driving.
I do a lot of night driving between Anaheim and Huntington Beach and I notice the white stripes are getting very dim and hard to see on foggy nights.

Why can't our rich county keep these lines conspicuous?
BARNEY RICHMOND.

TRAGIC SILLINESS
To the Editor: We are glad at our house that you are running the war poll. And we are every one against United States getting entangled in a war.

Now we worked it out this way. If our neighbor had a house and lot, belonging exclusively to him, but another neighbor insisted that he had some rights there, or that one of his children had been injured there, or something, like those things that start war, while, because of some cooperative effort, we had a little profit bearing square foot in that first neighbor's house, we would just let the square foot go. Certainly if it resolved in a fight, we should not send out sons, or other people's sons to protect our square foot of land.

War is so silly; there is just no other name for the horrible slaughter of men, women and children. We have, technically speaking, enough equipment, and transportation to provide all the needs of all the people, and with intelligences like those that produce such equipment, and with all the means of learning, we should be able to shoot at each other is nothing short of just silly, except it is tragic silliness. Now since we seem to still have to fight, why in the name of all that is reasonable not put robots to handle equipment? Why should I, who have raised fine, clean intelligent children, encourage them to fight a neighbor? And why should I sacrifice the finest of them to protect a little property in some other persons' front or backyard? What difference does it make if it is income bearing, even to the extent of being worth as much as the whole world?
E. J. S. DICKEY,
Fullerton.

What Other Editors Say

TOWN DRAWBACKS
(Stan Wilson in Orange Daily News)

J. W. Lovett of 570 North Orange street, after a five-weeks trip to Canada and other sections . . . and while away he picked up a copy of the Transcona News, which referred to a number of people in every community who are rather a drawback to its progress. The paper classified them as follows:

1. Those who do out of town to do their trading.
2. Those who oppose improvement.
3. Those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business.
4. Those who imagine they run the town.
5. Those who think business can be done slyly without advertising.
6. Those who deride public spirited men.
7. Those who oppose every suggestion of advancement that does not originate with themselves.
8. Those who are against any enterprise which does not appear to benefit them personally.
9. Those who seek to injure the credit of another by insinuation or otherwise.

Remarkable Remarks

WHIMSIES

DAY BY DAY
With O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK.—Someone sends a sorrow, curled clipping of the first column I ever wrote to reach print. It was distressingly soporific the feeble gropings of a novice to appear seasoned and wordy. Sprinkled with such fancy words as "eclect" and "insouciance."

I doubt that any columnist ever struggled so valiantly to catch the editor's eye. I would re-write a single line a dozen times, then tear it up and begin hopefully all over again. For two years I wrote a column a day that never got into type. At least 50 times I determined definitely to abandon the idea.

Columning is easier by far today. But the savor of striving is gone. We sprout our journalistic pin feathers, preen them awhile and moult. Or that seems the process of most. Somewhere on antiquated typewriters a new crop of columnists is whittling phrases in the first carvings of careers.

And they will not be denied. Columning gets in the blood, a raging fever that breaks out in a rash of inky splashes. The only panacea is reproduction on the printed page. Newspapers may along without columns in the future, but somehow it is my guess they have come to stay.

One of my early worries in columning was a newspaper in Tennessee that spelled my name "McIntire" in the by-line. I winced every time I saw it. Finally I notched up courage and wrote the editor a timid note suggesting a correction. I eagerly ripped open the exchange copies daily to see if the request had been granted. In a week it had been, and so simple are our early gratifications it was occasion for a jollification—I took my wife and a couple down to the hotel, via car to an 80 cent table d'hôte, vin compris, in celebration.

Martine Windsor Corum, who undid his name to the Bill Corum, whose sports column is hailed far and wide, is probably the world's champion merry-go-round rider. From one of his old friends I learn of his feat of acquiring the championship. It was during the 1910 Boomville, Mo. Street Fair and Bill, who lived on a near farm, gathered all the eggs on the place to take it in. The gilt Numidian lion of the carousel caught and captivated him utterly. He became its willing slave, and to shield himself from its interruptions turned his entire assets of $2.65 over the proprietor for continuous service with the proviso he was to be served hourly with a bottle of beer and a hamburger. When he dismounted at quitting time he suddenly realized he did not have the 35 cents necessary to carry him to the branch line station nearest his farm. In his predicament he went to his uncle, a lawyer, and sought the loan of 75 cents. The uncle very gravely chided him for his extravagance and refused the loan but agreed to sign a note at 6 per cent interest for the amount. So Bill, still dizzy, got home in time for the evening milking.

I like the English term "Nursing Home" for hospital. Hospital, for some reason, has taken on a harsh meaning—a precursor of pain. And nothing in our lexicon is so cruel sounding as "Home for Incurables." All of which is inspired by passing a pleasant night here on the Connecticut countryside labeled "Convalescents' Rest."

The stage's most successful woman director is Mrs. Frank Furiauff, who as Antoinette Perry was David Warfield's leading lady in "The Music Master." Rialto talk often brackets her as a financial backer of the Brock Pemberton productions, which is not the case. She has directed several of his successes, but not financially interested. Her daughter, Margaret Perry, has essayed several successful roles and Miss Perry's husband, young Burgess Meredith, is a foremost young actor.

A long established Broadway friend is Dave Levy, who, beginning as an errand boy, became general manager of Nat Lewin's haberdasheries. For years Dave was a Sunday night regular at Palace vaudeville, sitting across aisle from another variety enthusiast, Russell Griewood. It occurred to me in passing Dave's the other day that he is the sole survivor of my Broadwayites I knew by sight during early days in town. A list including George Rector, Capt. Churchill, A. Toxer Worm, Leander Richardson, Bat Materson, and others. All gone—over the horizon or to other vocations.
